From the Desk of the President

Phoenix Seminary trains men and women to build up healthy churches here in Phoenix and around the world. You are a part of what God is doing to grow his Kingdom, and we are honored that you are studying with us.

For thirty-two years, Phoenix Seminary has graduated leaders who serve in the church, parachurch ministries, and professional counseling. Every graduate leaves with a Christ-centered, biblically-grounded, and mentor-shaped graduate education.

As a student, you have the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to study with internationally recognized faculty who not only research at the highest levels of scholarship, but who serve students, their churches, and Christ with the heart of a shepherd. In other words, our faculty models the heartbeat of our Seminary and our goal for you – “Scholarship with a Shepherd’s Heart.”

The church desperately needs trained leaders who have minds sharpened by the Word and who have hearts prepared for shepherding. Head and heart must be held together so that the whole person can be trained for the awesome responsibility of ministry. Our sincere hope and prayer is that you graduate from Phoenix Seminary equipped, head and heart, for the task ahead.

The challenges of ministry are mounting with each passing year. Be bold and courageous. God has called you and he is faithful.

For Christ,

Dr. Brian Arnold

About Phoenix Seminary

Our Mission

Phoenix Seminary trains men and women for Christ-centered ministry for the building up of healthy churches in Phoenix and the world.

Our Philosophy

“Scholarship with a Shepherd’s Heart”

Our Statement of Faith

1. Concerning God: We believe there is one God, Who eternally exists in three persons – Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
2. Concerning the Bible: We believe the 66 books of the Old and New Testament are the authoritative Word of God based on an inspired text without error in the autographs.*
3. Concerning the Person and Work of the Lord Jesus Christ: We believe in the full deity and humanity of Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death through His shed blood, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father where He intercedes for us, and in His personal return in power and glory.
4. Concerning the human Condition: We believe all human beings are lost and sinful by nature. Consequently, salvation can only be accomplished by God’s grace through regeneration and justification by the Holy Spirit. Salvation cannot be earned. It is a gift from God, received only by faith in Jesus Christ.
5. Concerning the Present Work of the Holy Spirit: We believe all human beings are lost and sinful by nature. Consequently, salvation can only be accomplished by God’s grace through regeneration and justification by the Holy Spirit. Salvation cannot be earned. It is a gift from God, received only by faith in Jesus Christ.
6. Concerning the Spiritual Unity of Believers: We believe the Church is the body of Christ of which He is the head.
7. Concerning the Future: We believe in the bodily resurrection of the saved unto eternal life and the lost to eternal condemnation.

*Autograph is a theological term referring to the original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek manuscripts of Scripture.

This Statement of Faith does not fully encompass the extent of our doctrinal beliefs. The Bible itself, speaks with final authority concerning truth, morality and the conduct of mankind, and is the final source of all that we believe. For purposes of Phoenix Seminary’s doctrine, practice, policy and discipline, the Board of Directors, as advised by the faculty, is the Seminary’s final interpretive authority on the Bible’s meaning and application.

Faculty Teaching Position

Phoenix Seminary's resident faculty and senior administration hold to the following teaching position. Board members, staff, and students must only affirm the Phoenix Seminary Statement of Faith.

Concerning the Bible

We believe the Scriptures, the 66 books of the Old and New Testaments, are the inspired Word of God, without error in the words of the original writings. The Scriptures provide the complete revelation of His will for the salvation of humanity and the divine and final authority for all Christian faith and life. [Joshua 1:7-8; Psalm 19:7-11; 119:97-104, 160; Matthew 5:17-18; Mark 12:36; Luke 24:44-45; John 16:13-14; 1 Corinthians 11:23; Galatians 1:11-12; 2 Timothy 3:16-17; Hebrews 4:12; 1 Peter 1:11-12; 2 Peter 1:20-21; 3:15-16]

Concerning God

We believe there is one true and infinitely perfect God who is the creator and sustainer of all things. He eternally exists in three persons-Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. [Genesis 1; 3:22; 11:7; Deuteronomy 4:35, 39; 6:4; Psalm 8:3; 90:2; 148; Isaiah 45:5; Matthew 28:18-19; Romans 1:18-20; 1 Corinthians 8:4-6; 2 Corinthians 13:14; Ephesians 4:4-6; Colossians 1:16-17]

God the Father

We believe the Father, the first Person of the Trinity, decreed for His glory all things that come to pass. He providentially upholds and governs all creatures and events according to His own purpose. Through His plan and His wisdom He has graciously provided salvation for mankind through Jesus Christ. [Psalm 103:19; 135:6; Proverbs 21:1; Daniel 4:34-35; Romans 11:33-36; 1 Corinthians 8:6; Ephesians 1:4-14; 1 Peter 1:1-5]

God the Son

We believe Jesus Christ, the second Person of the Trinity, is the eternal Son of God. He was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, and lived a sinless life as the God-Man. He died on the cross in order to pay the penalty for the sins of the world, rose bodily from the dead, and ascended into heaven. He has been seated at the right hand of the Father and now serves as the believers' High Priest and Advocate. [Luke 1-2; John 1:1-18; 1:29-34; 3:16; 8:58; Romans 1:3-4; 3:21-25; 5:17; 6:4; 1 Corinthians 15:3-4; Colossians 1:13-22; 2:3; Hebrews 1:1-4; 2:14-18; 4:14; 9:11-15]

God the Holy Spirit

We believe the Holy Spirit is the third Person of the Trinity. He glorifies the Lord Jesus Christ, convicts the world of sin, and regenerates the believer. He indwells the believer and illumines the Scriptures. He empowers and encourages believers for spiritual growth, godly living, and Christian service. [John 3:5; 14:16-17, 26; 16:7-15; Acts 5:1-11; 13:2; 1 Corinthians 2:10-16; 12:11; Galatians 5:16-25; Ephesians 1:13-14; 4:30; 5:17-18]

Concerning Humanity

We believe God created man and woman in His image, free from sin. They became sinners by voluntarily and personally choosing to disobey God's command. As a result of their sin, the human race is alienated from God and subject to His wrath. All people are sinners by nature and by practice. [Genesis 1:26-27; 3:1-19; Jeremiah 17:9; Romans 3:10-18; 23; 5:12-21; 6:23; Ephesians 2:1-5; 1 John 1:8, 10]

Concerning Salvation

We believe that salvation in the Scriptures is a multifaceted truth. The primary uses of this biblical term give greater depth, insight, and understanding of the character of God and the believer's past, present, and future aspects of salvation.

Justification

We believe that due to the sinful nature of mankind, it is impossible to enter into a right relationship with God or to earn the forgiveness of sins through one's own efforts. However, because of God's great love and mercy, He has graciously paid the penalty for sin through Christ's substitutionary death on the cross and has provided new life through His resurrection. The forgiveness of sins is an act of God's grace. It is a free gift to be received by faith in Christ alone. Only those who receive this gift become children of God and have eternal life – a relationship in which they are kept forever. [Isaiah 53:6; Mark 10:45; Romans 3:21-31; 5:1-19; 8:6-8; 10:4; 2 Corinthians 5:21; Galatians 2:16-20; 3:11; Ephesians 2:4-10]

Sanctification

We believe the process of spiritual growth begins at the point of justification. It is normative for believers to be conformed progressively to the image of Jesus Christ in attitude and action. Spiritual growth is increasingly demonstrated by the fruit of the Spirit and by obedience to the will of God due to a love for Him and others. Believers who walk in the Spirit in obedience to Him will receive eternal rewards at the Judgment Seat of Christ. God disciplines believers who disobey Him with temporal consequences and the loss of eternal rewards. [Leviticus 20:7-8; Psalm 51:7-10; John 3:16-21; Romans 6:15-23; 1 Corinthians 3:11-15; 2 Corinthians 5:10; Galatians 5:16-25; Ephesians 3:16-19; Colossians 3:5-17; 1 Thessalonians 3:12-13; 5:23; Hebrews 10:10, 14; 12:4-13; 1 John 3:2; 2 Peter 1:5-11]

Glorification

We believe the ultimate glorification of believers is assured on the basis of the immutable character of God and His sovereign work in their lives. God glorifies all whom He has called and justified. His character and work guarantee the believer's final conformity to the image of Jesus Christ. [John 17:24; Romans 8:17, 28-30; Ephesians 5:27; Philippians 3:21; 1 John 3:2]

Concerning the Church

We believe the true Church is the body of Christ of which He is the head. All those in this age who believe in Jesus Christ are baptized into the body of Christ, the universal Church. [Acts 1:5; 11:15, 1 Corinthians 12:13; Ephesians 1:21-23; Ephesians 2:20-22; 3:1-10; Colossians 1:18] We believe the local church is an organized, autonomous gathering of believers. The local church assembles for the purpose of instruction in the Scriptures, prayer, fellowship, worship, exhortation, encouragement, and the observance of the ordinances. Believers are to recognize their spiritual interdependence in the body of Christ and to be witnesses to God's saving grace in the world. [Acts 2:42; 6:1-6; Colossians 4:16; 1 Thessalonians 1:1; 2:1-20; 1 Timothy 3:1-13; 4:13; Titus 1:5-9; Hebrews 3:13; 10:25; 1 Peter 2:9] We believe the Scriptures prescribe two ordinances for the church: water baptism and the Lord's Table. Believers are to be baptized in water as a testimony to their spiritual identification with Christ's death and resurrection. In corporate worship, believers are to celebrate regularly the Lord's Supper in remembrance of His death on the cross and in anticipation of His return. These important physical reminders of the work of Christ are not prerequisites to justification. [Matthew 28:16-20; Luke 22:19-20; Acts 2:38-41; Romans 6:1-11; 1 Corinthians 11:23-32]

Concerning Angels and Satan

We believe angels were created by God as sinless spiritual beings. They worship and serve God in heaven and minister to God's people on earth. We believe that Satan was created as the highest angelic being, but because of his pride, God removed him from his position. Satan, the archenemy of God, endeavors to frustrate the purposes of God through all types of deception. Having been defeated at the cross, he and his demonic followers will ultimately be cast into the Lake of Fire. [Genesis 3:1-4; Ezekiel 28:12-19; Daniel 12:1; Matthew 4:1-11; 25:41; Mark 3:23-27; 2 Corinthians 11:3; 1 Timothy 3:6; Hebrews 1:6, 14; James 4:7; 1 Peter 5:8-9; Revelation 20:10]

Concerning the End Times

We believe in the personal and imminent return of the Lord Jesus Christ. This hope plays a significant role in motivating believers to a godly life and service on behalf of Jesus Christ and the kingdom of God. [Mark 13:24-27; John 14:2-3; Romans 14:10; 1 Corinthians 3:10-15; 2 Corinthians 5:10; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-17; 5:1-11; 2 Thessalonians 1:5-12; Titus 2:11-13; Revelation 20:1-6; 22:7, 20] We believe the dead will be raised bodily. The believer will be resurrected to eternal, unbroken fellowship with God and the unbeliever will be resurrected to eternal, conscious punishment. [Daniel 12:2; Mark 9:43-48; John 5:28-29; 1 Corinthians 15:50-53; Philippians 3:20-21; Revelation 4:1-11; 20:11-15; 21:1-4]

Applying for Admission

The Enrollment Department

The Enrollment Department welcomes the opportunity to encourage you as you explore our school and seek the Lord's leading for your education. Our nationally-recognized faculty and friendly staff enjoy helping potential students in discerning if God is calling them to Phoenix Seminary. If you think He may be calling you, please call us at 602.850.8000 (in the Phoenix area) or toll-free at 888.443.1020 to learn more about the Seminary or to arrange a campus visit.

General Admission Requirements

Phoenix Seminary welcomes all applicants who give evidence of a commitment to Jesus Christ and whose lives demonstrate consistency with the teaching of the Bible. Applicants must give evidence of ministry potential and, if married, should also have the support of their spouse. Applicants must have earned a baccalaureate degree or its educational equivalent from an accredited college or university before they can be admitted to graduate studies at Phoenix Seminary. An undergraduate GPA of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) is required for the MDiv, MAM, and Graduate Diploma. A GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) is required for admission to the MA (BTS), ThM, and DMin. Graduates of unaccredited institutions, when accepted, are placed on academic probation. Probation is removed after twelve credit hours of satisfactory progress toward the degree. Specific admission requirements are detailed in each program section.

Application for Admission

Applications for admission are made through <https://ps.edu/apply/>. Once the completed application and all necessary information are received, the Admissions Committee will promptly examine the material and notify the applicant regarding admission status. If more information is needed, the applicant will be contacted by email or telephone. A personal interview may be required by the Admissions Committee. The Seminary reserves the right to review any supplemental information to an application, solicited or unsolicited. The Admissions Committee will evaluate such information for its accuracy and helpfulness to the admissions process.

Applications will be accepted a maximum of one year before to the applicant's intended start date. Failure to disclose information requested within the application process could disqualify applicants for admission or result in grounds for immediate dismissal if discovered after admission. Phoenix Seminary reserves the right to deny admission to applicants for any reason which in its sole discretion, it deems appropriate.

Enrollment Agreement

Newly admitted students must complete an Enrollment Agreement indicating an understanding of various policies and tuition costs.

Non-Discrimination Policy

Within the context of its theological convictions and mission, Phoenix Seminary does not discriminate based on race, sex, color, disability, age or national or ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, academic scholarships and loan programs and other school-administered programs.

Responsible Borrowing Policy

Believing that the manner in which an applicant manages their finances reflects their character and affects their future success in ministry, the Admissions Committee will give consideration to an applicant's student loan history including evidence of forbearance, delinquency and default whether or not the applicant plans to apply for student loans. Any applicant with student loan debt in excess of $60,000 will normally not be considered for admission. We seek to ensure that our students are not faced with overwhelming financial debt that might hinder present or future ministry involvement.

Automatic Disqualifiers

The Admissions Committee will automatically disqualify any applicant who has:

1. Engaged in sexual misconduct against children (under the age of 15), including any perpetration of a sexual crime against children (under the age of 15) while the applicant was a minor (under the age of 18) or adult within five years of application.
2. Engaged in sexual misconduct against a minor (under the age of 18) or adult within five years of application.
3. Engaged in conduct constituting a felony within five years of application.
4. Been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Services within five years of application.
5. Engaged in any act of domestic violence within two years of application, including but not limited to, any crime of violence, intimidation, harassment, damage to property or other abuse perpetrated against a current or former spouse, current or former intimate partner or family member.

6. Possessed, sold, manufactured or used illegal drugs within three years of application.
7. Been in prison within two years of application
8. Engaged in conduct constituting driving under the influence (“DUI”)/driving while impaired (“DWI”) within two years of application.
9. Received church discipline within two years of application.
10. Been removed from a position of ministry because of a charge of unethical or immoral behavior within five years of application (excludes ministry removal for economic or institutional necessity).
11. Lied during any stage of the application process, including but not limited to falsifying any information on the application.

Discretionary Disqualifiers

The following discretionary disqualifiers may, upon review by the Admissions Committee, make any applicant ineligible for Seminary admission who has:

1. Engaged in sexual misconduct against a minor (under the age of 18) or adult more than five years prior to application.
2. Engaged in conduct constituting a felony more than five years prior to application.
3. Engaged in conduct constituting a misdemeanor (minor traffic violations excluded).
4. Engaged in any act of domestic violence more than two years prior to application, including but not limited to, any crime of violence, intimidation, harassment, damage to property or other abuse perpetrated against a current or former spouse, current or former intimate partner or family member.
5. Possessed, sold, manufactured or used illegal drugs more than three years prior to application.
6. Been in prison more than two years prior to application.
7. Engaged in conduct constituting driving under the influence (“DUI”)/driving while impaired (“DWI”) more than two years prior to application.
8. Received church discipline more than two years prior to application.
9. Been removed from a position of ministry because of a charge of unethical or immoral behavior more than five years prior to application (excludes removal for economic or institutional necessity).
10. Been involved in the habitual use of pornography or other adult entertainment in any form or medium within 12 months of application (if the applicant desires to discuss this matter in a confidential conversation with a seminary representative, please inform your Enrollment Counselor).

11. Been involved in homosexual, premarital or extramarital sexual relations within two years of application.
12. Had a complaint of sexual harassment substantiated against him/her.

NOTE: This is not intended to be an exhaustive list of factors which may lead to the disqualification of an applicant for admission and does not preclude denial of admission to any applicant on other appropriate grounds. For additional information please see “Disclosure and Release Authorization” within the Application for Admission (located on www.ps.edu).

Non-Baccalaureate Admission

Applicants who lack the prerequisite baccalaureate degree may apply for admission into the Master of Divinity, Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies), Master of Arts in Ministry, or Graduate Diploma program.

Admission of applicants without baccalaureate degrees is highly selective. Applicants are evaluated on maturity (based on personal recommendations), educational background, considerable lay or vocational ministry experience and vocational goals. In general, applicants must be at least 30 years of age. Preference is given to those who have the most qualifying educational background. A personal interview may be required. Applicants accepted will be put on academic probation. Probation is removed after twelve semester credit hours of satisfactory progress toward the degree.

Visiting Students

Visiting students who are pursuing studies at other institutions may be admitted to enroll for one or more courses without the intention of completing a program at Phoenix Seminary. Visiting students are expected to complete the same coursework requirements as degree or diploma students.

Visiting students who plan to eventually apply to a degree program must satisfy the general admission requirements of the Seminary.

Admission Options for Hispanic Students

Hispanic students who desire to earn a master’s degree through Phoenix Seminary but do not have a bachelor’s degree, an undergraduate degree completion option is available in partnership with Biblical Seminary of Colombia, a nationally-accredited undergraduate and graduate school of theological education in Medellin, Colombia. Students can earn a Bachelor of Arts in Theology through Biblical Seminary of Colombia. This degree is 153 credits, costs $62 per credit hour, and is available completely online and in Spanish. This allows Hispanic students to complete their bachelor's degree inexpensively and conveniently. After students complete their undergraduate degree, they can apply to Phoenix Seminary's master degree programs and, if accepted, may qualify for advanced placement in their master's degree.

Hispanic students who are not interested in pursuing a master's degree but would like a non-credit option available in Spanish, a diploma is available through Biblical Seminary of Colombia. For more information, contact Phoenix Seminary's Enrollment Department.

Demonstration of English Proficiency

Applicants for whom English is not their native or birth language – even if they are United States Citizens, attended American or English-speaking colleges and/or universities or are longtime residents of English-speaking countries – must submit proof of ability to perform graduate education in the English language. Proof may be demonstrated in three ways:

1. Earn a bachelor or master's degree from an English-language institution, as demonstrated by a degree-posted transcript.
2. Take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and present a minimum score of 92 (Internet), 587 (Paper) or 240 (Computer). The TWE (Test for Written English) portion of the exam must also be completed with a minimum score of 4.5 (out of 6). A copy of your test and the test date must be provided. Enter Phoenix Seminary's code (#8513) on your answer sheet to have your scores automatically sent to the Seminary. Information on the TOEFL exam can be requested at www.toefl.com or by writing TOEFL Services, P.O. Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151 or calling 609.771.7100.
3. Take the International English Language Testing System (IELTS), Academic Module and present a minimum overall band score of 6.5. Information on the Academic Module of IELTS is available at www.ielts.org. Please request that a copy of your test results be sent to the Director of Admissions at Phoenix Seminary.

The TOEFL or IELTS must be taken no more than two years prior to the date of application. The purpose of this requirement is to enable students to make rapid progress in the comprehension and mastery of their program of study.

International Students

The Seminary will consider international student applicants who hold an H1-B Visa, an R-1 (Religious Worker) Visa, a Spouse Visa, or a Permanent Resident Visa (green card) who meet the requirement for a demonstration of English proficiency. Applicants with an F-1 (Student Visa) will be considered on a limited basis. Please speak with an Enrollment Counselor.

Readmission

Applicants who do not enroll within one year of the date of admission, as well as students who do not enroll for three consecutive Fall or Spring semesters (Summer semesters excluded) will be withdrawn from the Seminary. Withdrawn students who desire to return must apply for readmission through the Enrollment Department. Readmitted students are subject to the program requirements in effect at the time of readmission rather than those from the time of initial admission.

Financial Information

Tuition and Fees

Quality theological education is expensive. Phoenix Seminary works hard to keep our tuition below the national average. This is possible because the majority of the cost of training our students is paid by the generous gifts of our investors – members of the body of Christ who support the vision and mission of the Seminary. Students and prospective students must also be good stewards, making careful financial planning part of the process to prepare for their education.

The Business Office issues statements via the student's netclassroom portal (PS student portal) which itemize charges, credits, pending financial aid and payments due. This email will include instructions on accessing the Online Payment Center or signing up for the Tuition Installment Plan. If a student's tuition will be paid by a third party, the student should forward the statement directly to the third party. Payment should be submitted as soon as the student has determined how he or she wants to pay for courses, but no later than the Tuition Payment Deadline. The student will be charged a $50 late tuition payment fee in instances when a late payment was not authorized by the Business Office or the Financial Aid Office.

Tuition Installment Plan

Credit students have the option to pay their tuition and fees via interest-free monthly installments. Installments are automatically withdrawn from the student's credit card or ACH (eCheck) account.

If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions concerning the online payment process or the Tuition Installment Plan, please contact your Student Services Advisor.

Alumni Tuition Waiver

The Alumni Tuition Waiver exists to encourage continuing education for our graduates of all credit programs. All Phoenix Seminary alumni may register for one course per semester (except TH504 or DMin courses) as non-credit, non-transcripted alumni enrichment with no charge for tuition. DMin alumni may also register for one alumni enrichment course annually with no charge for tuition. General Service fees still apply for all alumni. Alumni who have outstanding financial obligations to the Seminary will not be permitted to register for alumni enrichment courses.

Cancellation/Tuition Refund Policy

An applicant denied admission by the school is entitled to a refund of all monies paid. An applicant who provides written notice of cancellation within 3 days (excluding Saturday, Sunday and federal and state holidays) of signing an enrollment agreement is entitled to a refund of all monies paid to Phoenix Seminary. No later than 30 days of receiving the notice of cancellation, the school shall provide the 100% refund. An applicant requesting cancellation more than 3 days after signing an enrollment agreement and making an initial payment, but prior to entering the school, is entitled to a refund of all monies paid (minus the non-refundable general services fee and the Birkman survey for Doctor of Ministry students). Tuition refunds for dropped courses are made according to the percentage of refund noted on the Tuition Fee Schedule. The percentage used is determined by the effective schedule change date/time period regardless of class attendance.

Due to the refund percentage rate and any schedule change fee, dropping a course or changing from credit to audit will not necessarily result in a refund. Schedule Change Fees will not be assessed for changes made during the 100% refund period or after the 50% refund period; for canceled courses, capped courses, or non-tuition courses; for first-semester students; or for changed/advised initiated by Academic Services.

Applying for Financial Aid

Financial Aid

Phoenix Seminary's goal is to offer our students a variety of options for financial assistance so they may complete their degree program with little or no debt.

Financial Assistance

We encourage students to take advantage of the many resources available to help pay for their education. Many churches will help fund a student's education. Direct financial assistance is available through the scholarships and financial resources listed below. While we do not encourage debt, we do participate in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. These loans are managed by the Department of Education's Federal Loan servicers and must be repaid.

Scholarship Resources

For information on how to apply for one of our scholarships, please contact your designated Enrollment Counselor or Student Service Advisor. Awards are based on half-time to full-time enrollment. All Distinguished Scholarship recipients excluding Kuns and Casilli must reapply each academic year for scholarship awards. Applications for Seminary scholarships and for Federal Financial Aid must be received by the posted deadline. New students must submit the completed Application for Admission and Scholarship Application(s) by the posted deadlines to be considered for scholarships.

Federal Financial Aid

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan Program

Students may borrow money for educational expenses directly from the Federal Direct Loan Program. Funds are transmitted electronically to the student's tuition account. Interest on the Unsubsidized Stafford loan begins to accrue at the time of the first disbursement. Repayment of principal plus interest begins six months after graduation or withdrawal from school, whichever comes first.

Application Procedures

It is the student's responsibility to keep the institution and lender informed of any name or address changes. Title IV Federal Financial Aid Funds can only be used for educational purposes. Financial aid awards are subject to change at any time due to changes in student financial or academic status.

Federal Financial Aid Eligibility

Students accepted for admission may apply for financial assistance. Phoenix Seminary awards assistance on the basis of need, regardless of sex, age, disability, creed or national origin of the applicant. To receive federal financial assistance the student must meet the following criteria:

1. Be a U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen;
2. Have a valid Social Security Number;
3. Be registered with Selective Services if a male and between the ages of 18 and 25;
4. Have financial need;
5. Not be in default, delinquent, or owe an overpayment on any Title IV Program;
6. Be enrolled at least half-time in an eligible program;
7. Maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress in accordance with the school's standards.

Disbursement of Federal Financial Aid Funds

Student loan borrowers are required to complete an entrance interview. Federal Direct Stafford Loans are disbursed within 4-6 weeks of the start of the current semester. The Business Office credits students' accounts with financial aid funds within three days of the electronic transfer from the Department of Education.

Federal Financial Aid Refund Policy

For purposes of determining refunds, the number of days enrolled is calculated from the start date to the date the student submits a written statement of withdrawal or the last known date of class attendance as determined by the Office of Financial Aid or the Office of the Registrar. Class days missed due to absences are included. Time out of class due to a leave of absence or school closure is excluded.

The U.S. Department of Education's Return of Title IV Funds policy generally entitles recipients of Title IV aid to retain that aid on a pro-rata basis through completion of 60 percent of the course, then generally provides for 100 percent entitlement. However, since both the Title IV funds received as well as the Phoenix Seminary refund policy apply exclusively to tuition, any student who terminates may be obligated to pay a portion of any charges for items other than tuition, in addition to any obligation for repayment of Title IV financial aid.

Refunds are prioritized by source of funds as follows:

1. Unsubsidized Stafford Loans
2. Other Aid
3. General Fees, Late Fees, and other institutional charges are not refundable.

Veteran's Benefits

All Phoenix Seminary's credit programs are eligible for VA benefits. Only courses which count toward the degree will be included in the certification of enrollment. The VA's progress requirements are the same as those stated in the Academic Standing and Academic Probation sections. To begin the certification process, a Certificate of Eligibility (COE) must be submitted to your Student Services Advisor prior to enrolling in classes. Phoenix Seminary will inquire about each veteran's previous education and training, and request that the student obtain transcripts from all prior institutions, including military training, traditional college coursework, and vocational training. Previous transcripts will be evaluated and credit will be granted, as appropriate.

VA Late Payment Policy

Phoenix Seminary will allow any covered individual (Any individual who is entitled to educational assistance under chapter 31, Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment, or chapter 33, Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits) to attend or participate in the course of education during the period beginning on the date that which the individual provides to the educational institution a certificate of eligibility for entitlement to educational assistance under chapter 31 or 33. Phoenix Seminary is not allowed to impose any penalty including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities, or the requirement that a covered individual borrow additional funds to any covered individual because of the inability to meet his or her financial obligations to the seminary due to the delayed disbursement funding from VA under Chapter 31 or 33. These policies will be held in effect until the earlier of the following dates: 1. The date on which payment from the VA is made to the institution. 2. 90 Days after the date the institution certified tuition and fees following the receipt of the certificate of eligibility.

Additional Resources

Partners in Ministry Waiver (Spouse Tuition Benefit)

We recognize that the ministry of married couples is a team calling. To encourage spouses of students to participate in Phoenix Seminary classes and activities as much as possible, spouses of MDiv, MAC, MAM, MA (BTS) and Graduate Diploma students may enroll for credit or non-credit courses with no cost for tuition (not to exceed the hours taken by the primary credit student at any semester). General Service fees still apply. To be eligible, the spouse must meet the appropriate admission requirements and submit the Application for Admission.

Denominational and Church Assistance

Some denominations have scholarships and loan programs to assist seminarians. Many local churches have also established scholarship funds for their members.

Foundation Grants to Individuals

Available in most public libraries, this resource lists hundreds of foundations which offer grants to graduate students. Foundations may be associated with parents, employers, regional areas, scholastic ability or vocation.

Ministry Waiver

The Ministry Waiver is designed to allow individuals engaged in full-time ministry to attend one course per year as a non-credit student at no cost for tuition. General services fees still apply. Applicants must be engaged in full-time ministry and must complete the non-credit, Continuing Education Application for Admission. Applicants must have not attended Phoenix Seminary previously and are limited to one tuition-waived non-credit course.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

To maintain financial aid eligibility, students receiving VA or Title IV benefits are required to maintain a qualitative cumulative GPA of at least 2.0 for MDiv and MAM; 3.0 for DMin, ThM, MA (BTS), and MAC. The Financial Aid Office will evaluate SAP at the end of each payment period.

In addition to the qualitative measure, you must satisfactorily complete the following. A specific number of credit hours per academic year (fall-spring-summer) in the above programs based on the maximum time frame completion of the degree program in which a financial aid student is enrolled. This time frame for completion is stated in the Academic Catalog's graduation requirements for each degree program.

The Financial Aid Office will evaluate SAP at the end of each payment period. If SAP is not met in a given semester, a Financial Aid Warning will be issued.

Academics

Educational Values

Phoenix Seminary seeks to promote personal and spiritual growth through the alignment of degree program student outcomes with the following educational values:

1. Theological Understanding through Biblical Study

We believe the Word of God is foundational to life and ministry. Therefore, we will provide education that stimulates increasing love, respect and submission to the Word of God as well as accurate and appropriate handling of the Scriptures.

2. Character Development through Mentoring

We believe godly character is paramount for successful Christian ministry. Therefore, we will provide mentoring relationships that encourage personal integrity and Christ-like character.

3. Ministry Skills through Practice

We believe ministry skills are formed in the classroom and proven in ministry practice outside the classroom. Therefore, we will provide opportunities that develop essential skills for reducing marginalization and injustice of people groups by bridging cultural, socio-economic, ethnic, racial and gender boundaries.

Effectiveness and Student Achievement

Phoenix Seminary is committed to integrity and Christian stewardship. Therefore, it engages in systematic evaluation of its effectiveness in producing graduates who possess the knowledge, skills, and character indicated in our Educational Values. Student achievement and the Seminary's educational effectiveness are measured through 1) the assessment of student learning outcomes 2) Graduation and retention rates and 3) graduate satisfaction and successful ministry employment.

Indicators of program effectiveness include both institutional and self-reported participant data that taken together help to ensure congruence between vocational intention and theological training. To aid in consistent and reliable reporting, our evaluative processes incorporate data reported to the Association of Theological Schools (ATS), our professional accrediting association. Two of the most common indicators of educational effectiveness in higher education are completion rates and the placement of graduates.

Academic Freedom

We recognize that students come from a wide variety of evangelical denominations and churches and will not necessarily subscribe to every portion of the Teaching Position. However, in order to graduate, students must affirm the Phoenix Seminary Statement of Faith, as we believe this reflects a broad-based statement of the essentials of the Christian faith.

Course Schedules and Credit Hours

Detailed final course schedules with descriptions are published in advance of each semester. The minimum full-time academic load for the DMin is four semester credit hours. The minimum full-time academic load for the MDiv, MAC, MA (BTS), MAM, and Graduate Diploma is nine semester credit hours (five in the summer term). The minimum half-time load for these programs is four semester credit hours (three in the summer term). Before enrolling for more than 18 hours, students must submit an Academic Petition to the Assistant Dean of Academic Services.

Credit Hour Definition

Classroom Courses: A semester credit hour normally represents one 50-minute class meeting per week and a minimum of two hours of outside-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester.

Online Courses: A semester credit hour normally represents three hours of student work per week for approximately 15 weeks for one semester. This is equivalent to the time required in a ground course semester credit hour. Student work in an online course includes, but is not limited to, the following: quizzes, discussion questions, video lectures, research papers, and exams.

Course Workload Guidelines

For the courses in Biblical Literature (BL), New Testament Greek (NT) or Old Testament Hebrew (OT) divisions, students should anticipate studying approximately three hours outside of class for each hour spent in the classroom. For all other courses, student should anticipate studying approximately two hours outside of the class for each hour spent in the classroom. The first semester of enrollment generally requires more time for adjustment and the development of effective study and management skills. These guidelines represent the typical graduate student and are intended as a guide to assist you in planning your homework schedule.

Assignment Time Estimates

Mastery Reading, Technical	20 pages/hour or 10 chapters of Scripture/hour
Mastery Reading, Other	30 pages/hour or 15 chapters of Scripture/hour (careful Interaction with ideas, note taking, accountability in class, Papers and tests)
Familiarity Reading, General	45 pages/hour or 25 chapters of Scripture/hour (highlighting, general acquaintance with ideas in text but not specific points or details)
Writing Research Papers	½ page/hour
Writing Reflection Papers	2 pages/hour
Scripture Memorization	4 verses/hour
Major Exam Preparation	7 hours
Beginning Translation	2-3 lines/hour
Advanced Translation	5-7 lines/hour
Vocabulary Memorization	15 words/hour

If there are other types of assignments not listed above, the time proposed will be a reasonable time for an average student to fulfill the requirement. The grading in the course will be proportional to the balance of assignments. Biblical Literature courses have additional Bible reading requirements.

Independent and Individualized Study

Independent Study

In extenuating circumstances, all degree students may petition to enroll in a regular course through independent study. Students who take courses by independent study lose the benefit of classroom interaction with the professor and other students. Consideration will be given to the student's academic record and the availability of an independent study supervisor. Academic petitions for independent study should be submitted to your Student Services Advisor no later than four weeks prior to the registration deadline.

Attendance is based on a minimum of three interactions during the semester between the instructor and student. The instructor will be available throughout the semester to clarify any questions or to discuss course topics. Assignments of homework, tasks, tests and papers may be due at different intervals. Methods of contact between student and instructor are structured differently and arranged between the two parties. Phoenix Seminary uses a variety of technology such as Skype, email, phone calls, Tegrity recordings (lecture capture software), Moodle and FaceTime for communication within the independent study course.

There is a limit to the number of independent studies a student is permitted to take in each program degree.

ThM = No Independent Study

MAC = 1 Independent Study

MDiv = 2 Independent Studies

MAM = 1 Independent Study

MA (BTS) = 1 Independent Study

Graduate Diploma = No Independent Study

Individualized Study

An individualized study is a unique course which is designed by a faculty advisor and student which permits DMin, MDiv, MA (BTS), and MAM students to pursue personalized studies to build competence in their area of ministry interest. To be eligible for approval, an individualized study must:

1. Not replicate a course normally offered in the regular curriculum;
2. Have the support of the faculty member who would potentially supervise the study;
3. Pursue defined objectives which are clearly set forth in a course syllabus (created by the student and faculty advisor prior to registration);
4. Be undertaken by a student maintaining a cumulative GPA of at least 3.4;
5. The culminating requirements of one individualized study in the MA (BTS) program, requires students to have a cumulative 3.0 GPA.

Academic petitions for individualized study should be submitted to your Student Services Advisor no later than four weeks prior to the Registration deadline.

Attendance is based on a minimum of three interactions during the semester between the instructor and student. The instructor will be available throughout the semester to clarify any questions or to discuss course topics. Assignments of homework, tasks, tests, and papers may be due at different intervals. Methods of contact between student and instructor are structured differently and arranged between the two parties.

There is a limit to the number of individualized studies a student is permitted to take in each program degree.

ThM = No Individualized Study

MAM = 1 Individualized Study

MDiv = 2 Individualized Studies

Graduate Diploma = No Individualized Study

MA (BTS) = 1 Individualized Study

Field Education

Field Education Requirements

A core value at Phoenix Seminary is to prepare students to serve Jesus Christ effectively in a changing world by providing ministry training. Significant components of this training are accomplished through field education. Each degree program has field education requirements.

Internships (BC591, CF591, CS591, IS591, LA591, MS591, SF591)

Internships are designed to integrate students into living ministry situations in roles of creativity, leadership and direct ministry training by qualified ministry supervisors. Students will experience training critical to their ministry plans as well as cross-training to learn other aspects of ministry. Students are responsible for arranging a ministry environment in which to complete their Internship, along with oversight and evaluation from a qualified ministry Supervisor. Students should plan to intern in the area of their expected ministry service following graduation and should become involved in and committed to a potential internship site as early as possible in their Seminary experience. For assistance in securing a ministry environment or for any other questions regarding the Internship process, please contact the Director of Field Education.

Students register for Internships as they would any other course. The Internship Information and Registration Packet should be submitted to the Director of Field Education well before the start of the semester in which the student plans to complete an Internship and no later than the second Friday of the semester.

Counseling Practicum (CF594)

CF594 Counseling Practicum is designed to integrate students into client-based environments under the care of qualified counseling supervisors. Students will experience training critical to their counseling skills as well as learn about the dynamics of clinical practice. This summative experience combines knowledge of counseling theory and research, counseling skills, knowledge of Scripture, biblical character, and gifts of the Spirit into a unified, coherent experience. Students bring together these different skills and are matched with actual clients in a real life counseling setting.

Counseling Internships (CF596/597)

CF596 Counseling Internship I is an introduction to the practice of clinical assessment, treatment planning, and interventions within a professional counseling practice. Student-counselors evaluate their own work as well as receiving client, peer, supervisor, and faculty feedback in 360 evaluations. Classroom component accompanies field placement.

CF597 Counseling Internship II is an advanced practice of assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of individuals, couples, families, and/or groups under the direct supervision of an approved on-site supervisor and faculty supervisor. Classroom component accompanies field placement.

Students register for CF594, CF596, and CF597 as they would any other course, but it is imperative that students follow all procedures including registration, application, letter of reference, fingerprinting and insurance. The information and Registration Packet should be submitted to Dr. Justin Smith, the Director of the Counseling Program, well before the start of the semester in which the student plans to complete the Practicum and no later than the 2nd Friday of the semester.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE)

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is designed to advance the skills, attitudes, and ethics of pastoral care giving under a theological and behavioral health model. It is especially useful for those considering work as a pastor or chaplain. Certain chaplaincy opportunities are only open to those who have completed two or more units of CPE, either in seminary or after graduation.

CPE units may be undertaken from centers accredited by either the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education (ACPE) or the College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy (CPSP). Students may receive transfer credit at Phoenix Seminary for completion of ACPE or CPSP-accredited Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) units.

The Association for Clinical Pastoral Education

The Association for Clinical Pastoral Education, INC. is a multicultural, multi-faith professional association committed to advancing experience-based theological education for seminarians, clergy and lay persons of diverse cultures, ethnic groups and faith traditions. They establish standards, certify supervisors and accredit programs and centers in varied settings. ACPE programs promote the integration of personal history, faith tradition and the behavioral sciences in the practice of spiritual care through the clinical educational methods of Clinical Pastoral Education. CPE may be used as an avenue for completing certain Field Education requirements in your Seminary degree program. It is up to the student to make contact with the CPE center of their choice, register and pay all fees associated with the center and to communicate to the Director of Field Education and/or the Registrar his or her intent to complete one or more CPE units in order to receive transfer credit.

The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy (CPSP)

The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy is a theologically based covenant community, dedicated to “Recovery of Sou.” CPSP offers the following:

- Accredited training and credentialing for Pastoral Psychotherapy. Credential is certification as Diplomate in Pastoral Psychotherapy.

- Accredited training and credentialing for Pastoral Supervision. Credential is certification as Diplomate in Pastoral Supervision.
- Accredited training and credentialing for Pastoral Counseling. Credential is certification as Pastoral Counselor or Associate Pastoral Counselor.
- Accredited training and credentialing for Clinical Chaplaincy. Credential is certification as Board Certified Clinical Chaplain or Board Certified Associate Clinical Chaplain.

The contact for CPSP in Phoenix is:

- Dr. Geoff Tio
520.370.4196
geoftio@ccchaplains.org

[Caveat for aspiring chaplains: The major chaplaincy certification body in the U.S. is the Board of Chaplaincy Certification of the Association of Professional Chaplains. They have strict standards for CPE acceptance, requiring four units of CPE as one of the requirements for Board Certification. The Board may or may not accept specific CPE experiences depending on where they were completed. Students should check with the Association of Professional Chaplains before they undertake CPE to make sure it will be credited toward certification.]

Transfer Credit for Clinical Pastoral Education

For the first completed unit of CPE the student will receive up to six semester credit hours of transfer credit toward BC591, CF591, CS591, LA591, MS591, SF591, and/or general electives. A maximum of two units of CPE will be considered for up to a maximum of eight semester credit hours of transfer credit. Students are encouraged to undertake CPE only after they have completed approximately one half of their degree program. Evidence of completion of the unit will be the student's final CPE supervisor's evaluation and/or copy of the certificate of completion awarded by the ACPE or CPSP.

For other questions related to CPE, please contact the Director of Field Education or a CPE center of your interest.

Transfer Credit for Department of Defense Chaplains' School

Students who successfully complete military Chaplain's School as chaplain candidates and provide official documentation of completion, will receive up to six semester credit hours of transfer credit toward BC591, CF591, CS591, LA591, MS591, SF591, and/or general electives, subject to the approval of the Director of Field Education and/or the Registrar. (Credit is limited to programs of the United States Department of Defense or Canadian National Defense.)

Advanced Standing for Field Education

Students who have extensive ministry experience may apply for Advanced Standing to be exempted from the Internship. For more details, contact the Director of Field Education.

Field Education Personnel

The Director of Field Education is responsible for orienting students to their responsibilities, assisting in identifying potential ministry sites, serving as liaison with Ministry Supervisors when required and evaluating the student's progress in the program. The Ministry Supervisor assists the student in designing the scope of the ministry experience. Supervisor will exercise oversight of the student during the duration of the experience and will assist in the evaluation of the student's performance. The student's mentor may also be a helpful resource in reviewing the balance of spiritual life, academic life, ministry, employment and personal concerns. For information not covered here contact the Director of Field Education. Students in CF594, CF596, or CF597 should contact the Director of the Counseling program with any questions.

Schedule Changes

During the open registration period, you may make alterations to your schedule through the online registration portal (PS student portal). After this period ends, to make changes to your schedule you will need to contact your Student Services Advisor.

Students may add courses prior to the third class session (or its equivalent for intensive courses). Additions after that time must be approved in advance by submitting an academic petition to the Academic Petition Committee. Classes missed prior to the date the student added the course will count as absences for grading purposes. The student is responsible for consulting the course syllabus or instructor for specific details on the course attendance/grading policy.

Students may drop courses without grade penalty before the third class session (or its equivalent for intensive courses). Students may also change from credit to audit during this period. After the add/drop deadline, students requesting to withdraw from a course(s) will receive a "withdraw while failing" (WF) grade, unless the student has been granted permission to withdraw without academic penalty by submitting an academic petition to the Academic Petition Committee.

It is the student's responsibility to notify their Student Services Advisor if a course is to be dropped or withdrawn. Pay careful attention to the Fee Schedule for key add/drop and refund dates.

Auditing Courses

Credit students may audit a course without receiving credit. Auditors are considered regular participants in the course, though completion of written assignments or examinations is not required. Audit enrollment may be limited. Audited classes may be repeated for credit (full credit tuition would be charged for the retake). While in common usage, the term “Audit” is used to describe any sort of non-credit enrollment in a course, Phoenix Seminary considers audit a technical term that describes the enrollment of a credit student in a course without receiving credit. The Seminary also allows for non-credit (Continuing Education) students to take courses without receiving credit. Moreover, graduates of credit programs at Phoenix Seminary may take courses for Alumni Enrichment without receiving credit.

Registration Priority

Credit students are given priority in course registration, and for this reason the number of non-credit or Alumni Enrichment seats may be capped in some courses. When the maximum enrollment for a course has been reached, seating priority will be given to students in the following order (regardless of the date of registration):

1. Credit students (non-tuition waiver)
2. Credit students (tuition waiver)
3. Non-credit students (non-tuition waiver)
4. Non-credit students (tuition waiver)

Cancellation Policy

Phoenix Seminary reserves the right to cancel classes based on class size or to make other changes as seminary needs require. All information within the Course Schedule is subject to change at any time before the first week of the semester.

Academic Advising

All credit students are strongly encouraged to seek academic advisement in planning their Seminary education. Advising for new and continuing credit students is available through Student Services Advisors.

Academic Calendar Structure

Fall semester typically begins the second-to-the-last full week of August. Classes do not meet in mid/late November during the Reading Week/Thanksgiving break. Final exam week concludes just before the Christmas holiday.

January term intensive courses typically begin the first weekday after New Year’s Day and are part of the Spring semester for registration, financial aid, and grading purposes.

Spring semester traditional courses begin the week following January term, typically the second-to-the-last full week of January. Classes do not meet in mid-March during Spring break. Final exam week typically concludes in the second week of May.

Summer semester typically begins the second-to-the-last full week of May. Classes do not meet during the midsummer break. Final exam week ends in early August.

Reduced Credit

Transfer Credit

Current students enrolled at Phoenix Seminary who desire to take courses at other institutions applicable to their degree programs must contact the Registrar prior to enrolling for such courses.

Students or approved applicants who have completed relevant graduate-level studies at another institution may be eligible to receive transfer credit, provided that the courses meet the following criteria:

1. Completed with a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher. For the DMin, MAC and MA (BTS), a grade of “B” (3.0) or higher as recorded on an official transcript from a graduate institution accredited by the Commission on Accrediting of the Association of Theological Schools or a regional accrediting association;
2. Approximately parallel to course content at Phoenix Seminary (80 percent or higher equivalence) as judged by comparison of course descriptions or syllabi;
3. If the course was completed within a master’s degree, no more than 50 percent of the prior credits may be accepted in transfer toward the Phoenix Seminary degree;
4. For the maximum allowable transfer credits for each program, refer to the program descriptions. There are additional limitations on the amount of distance learning credits that can be received.

Where students can show warrant, exceptions to these guidelines may be granted.

Prior courses taken at Phoenix Seminary, regardless of age will be accepted. Competency exams will be required for placement into advanced language (3rd or 4th semester) or exegesis courses.

In most instances, all transfer credit completed previously at other institutions is identified by the Registrar shortly after an applicant is admitted. An official letter detailing the transfer credit awarded is issued to the applicant before or during his or her first semester of enrollment. Please note that requests for transfer credit evaluation must be made subsequent to admission to a program, but prior to the second semester of enrollment (except in the case of transfer credit taken at other institutions while enrolled at Phoenix Seminary).

If granted, transfer credit is incorporated into the student’s program, thereby reducing the total number of Phoenix Seminary credit hours required. Courses approved for transfer credit are not detailed on the Phoenix Seminary transcript and are not considered in the GPA for the purposes of determining academic standing. Undergraduate coursework is not eligible for transfer credit, but see Advanced Standing and Course Validation. Questions regarding transfer credit should be addressed to the Registrar.

Advanced Standing

Students or approved applicants who have a strong background in the subject matter covered in select seminary courses (whether through undergraduate coursework or personal study), may be eligible to receive advanced standing. If granted, advanced standing waives the required course from the student's program and also reduces the total number of Phoenix Seminary credit hours required. Advanced standing is available in the MDiv, MA (BTS), or MAM degree programs. The maximum hours of advanced standing allowed are as follows:

MDiv	30 hours
MA(BTS)	15 hours
MAM	15 hours

Combined advanced standing and transfer credit may not exceed 46 hours for the MDiv, 23 hours for the MA (BTS) or MAM. Advanced standing cannot be applied to elective credit.

There are two ways to achieve advanced standing:

1. Competency Exam

Advanced standing is awarded based on the student's knowledge and competence as demonstrated through an examination. Although a written examination may be required, in some cases the examining instructor conducts an interview (in person or by telephone), during which the student is asked open-ended questions to determine if he or she can demonstrate a competent, current understanding of approximately 80 percent of the course content.

To schedule an appointment for an examination, contact your Student Services Advisor. An examination fee of $75 must be submitted when taking each exam. This fee is non-refundable regardless of the outcome of the exam.

2. Assessment of undergraduate coursework

Approved applicants who have undergraduate coursework that is equivalent to that required by the MDiv, MA (BTS), or MAM program core, may have selected credit hours waived according to the following requirements:

- a) Undergraduate institution must be accredited.
- b) Undergraduate graduation date must be within five years of application.
- c) Cumulative undergraduate GPA must be 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.
- d) Specific undergraduate courses assessed and approved by the seminary must be - completed with a B (3.0) or above.

- e) Syllabi may be required as documentation for each course.
 - f) An advanced standing evaluation will be conducted for each student.

Courses approved for advanced standing are detailed on the Phoenix Seminary transcript but are not considered in the GPA for the purposes of determining academic standing.

Enrolling in a course for which advanced standing was granted will nullify the advanced standing. Non-credit students enrolled in a course may not take an advanced standing exam for that course. If they wish to receive credit, they must retake the course for credit and pay the full credit tuition.

Please note that requests for advanced standing must be made subsequent to admission to a program, but prior to the second semester of enrollment, with the exception of the first-year Greek and Hebrew exams which may be attempted at any time prior to enrollment in Greek or Hebrew.

Questions regarding advanced standing should be addressed to your Student Services Advisor.

Course Validation

Students are encouraged to not duplicate coursework completed at the undergraduate level in their studies at Phoenix Seminary. Students or approved applicants who have a strong background in the subject matter covered in selected seminary courses may be eligible to substitute electives in their place. The Registrar, in consultation with appropriate faculty as necessary, will assign course validations and determine whether substitute electives are followed. Courses which meet the following criteria are normally eligible for validation:

1. Completed with a grade of “B” (3.0) or higher as recorded on an official transcript from an accredited undergraduate institution;
2. Completed within five years of application to a Phoenix Seminary program;
3. Approximately 80 percent equivalent to the content of the required Phoenix Seminary course (syllabi, course descriptions and course assignments may be required) contained in the Courses Eligible for Advanced Standing/Course Validation on page 37.

Where student can show warrant, exceptions to these guidelines may be granted.

Students who lack relevant undergraduate coursework, which are eligible for validation, but who have considerable knowledge in a subject area through personal study, may complete an advanced standing examination instead. When such an examination is taken for the purpose of course validation, the course requirement will be waived, but not the credit hours. The examination fee is charged regardless of the outcome of the exam. For further details, see advanced standing on previous page.

Course validation results in the waiving of required course(s) and the re-assignment of credit hours to divisional electives in the same course division or a related course division. For example, if BL511 Old Testament 1: Genesis to Esther was validated, then any non-required Biblical Literature (BL) or Hebrew Language (OT) course could be taken instead. When multiple courses from the same division are validated, a portion of the hours may be assigned as general electives rather than divisional electives.

In most instances, all eligible course validations are identified by the Registrar shortly after an applicant is admitted. An official letter detailing the course validations is issued to the applicant before or during his or her first semester of enrollment.

Note that requests for course validation must be made subsequent to admission to a program, but prior to the second semester of enrollment.

If granted, course validations result in specific required Phoenix Seminary courses being waived and replaced with divisional electives without a reduction in the total number of credit hours required for a program.

Enrolling in a course for which course validation has been granted will nullify the validation. Students enrolled in a course for audit or enrichment may not take an advanced standing/validation exam for that course. If they wish to receive credit for the course, they must retake the course for credit and pay the full credit tuition. Questions regarding course validations should be addressed to your Student Services Advisor.

Standards for Completion of a Second Degree

A student who has earned or is working on a degree at Phoenix Seminary may earn a second degree at the seminary under the following conditions:

1. The student must meet the requirements for both degree programs. The student who has not yet completed his or her first master's degree may be admitted provisionally to the second program.

2. Credits earned for the first degree may be used to meet the requirements of the second degree, provided that those credits were earned within ten years of admission to the second degree.
3. Competency exams will be required for placement into advanced language (3rd or 4th semester) or exegesis courses.
4. The student must satisfy all requirements for the second degree program.
5. If applicable, all credit hours from the first degree may be counted toward the second, assuming total credits used do not exceed 66% of the second degree. For example, a student with a MAM degree could transfer all credits into the MDiv degree and, upon completion of all degree requirements in both programs, receive both degrees.

Academic Standing per Program

The following cumulative grade point averages must be maintained in order to remain in good academic standing:

Satisfactory Academic Progress

In order to maintain financial aid eligibility, students receiving VA or Title IV benefits are required to maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). Whether you are maintaining SAP is both a qualitative and quantitative measurement.

You must maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 on a 4.0 scale in all master's-level degree programs (3.0 in MAC and MA (BTS)). Should your cumulative GPA drop below this level, you have a two-semester probationary period to attain the GPA minimum. In addition, you must satisfactorily complete: 15 semester credit hours per academic year (Fall-Spring-Summer) in the MDiv program.

For financial aid eligibility, a leave of absence (LOA) does not extend the time period allowed for degree program completion. Rather, the time limit is calculated from the date of initial matriculation (which is the first semester you enrolled for classes). The Financial Aid Office will evaluate SAP at the end of each payment period. If SAP is not met in a given semester, a Financial Aid Warning will be issued.

Academic Warning, Probation, and Dismissal Policy

Academic Warning*: A student whose GPA falls below the minimum required for his/her program, or receives a grade of D+, D, D-, F, WF or U, will be placed on academic warning.

Academic Warning means:

1. The Student may be encouraged to take a reduced load of courses;
2. The student must have a conference with his/her academic advisor or the Executive Vice President and Provost to discuss areas of concern and options for improvement.

Academic warning is removed when the student's GPA reaches (2.0 for MDiv, MAM, and GDipl; 3.0 for ThM, DMin, MA (BTS) and MAC) or exceeds the minimum required for the degree.

Academic Probation*: A student whose GPA remains below the minimum GPA (2.0 for MDiv, MAM, and GDipl; 3.0 for ThM, DMin, MA (BTS) and MAC) or below the minimum required for the degree at the close of a semester in which they are on academic warning, will be placed on academic probation. Academic probation means:

1. The student is required to take a reduced course load;
2. The student must have monthly conferences with his or her academic advisor or the Executive Vice President and Provost during the probationary period to ensure clarity about possible consequences, discuss areas of concern, and pursue options for improvement;
3. The student may no longer be making Satisfactory Academic Progress, and as such may no longer be eligible for some kinds of financial aid.

Academic Dismissal*: A student whose GPA remains below a minimum of (2.0 for MDiv, MAM, and GDipl; 3.0 for ThM, Dmin, MA (BTS) and MAC) or below the degree program requirements at the conclusion of the next fall or spring semester (subsequent to the term in which the student is placed on probation) will be dismissed from the program. To be eligible for federal financial aid, the law specifies that by the end of the second academic year (regardless of how many credits the student has accrued), the student must have a cumulative GPA consistent with the requirement for graduation from the program. Furthermore, if the Registrar determines that a student cannot mathematically finish his/her program within the maximum timeframe for program completion, the student becomes ineligible for aid. This dismissal may be appealed by petition to the faculty for a joint recommendation for retention by the faculty, the Executive Vice President and Provost, and the Dean of Students.

A student who is dismissed for failing to meet academic standards may appeal for readmission after five weeks of the next semester have passed. The student must show that there were exceptional circumstances. Appeals for readmission should be submitted to the Academic Petition Committee.

*Written notification is given by the Office of the Registrar to the student, the student's advisor and mentor at the time of grade report distribution. In the cases of Academic Warning, Academic Probation or Academic Dismissal a notation is placed on the student's Official Transcript.

Leave of Absence, Withdrawal and Readmission

Leave of Absence

Students who will not be registering for courses in a semester must complete the Leave of Absence Form (available on www.ps.edu). Students should plan extended absences of a semester or longer with their Student Services Advisor. Students may request a Leave of Absence (LOA) not to exceed two consecutive Fall or Spring semesters (Summer semesters excluded). Students not registered for a course(s) in the third consecutive semester, they will be withdrawn from Phoenix Seminary. The student should speak with their Student Service Advisor before submission of the form to ensure that all matters are in order. An LOA may be granted for personal, financial or other reasons, but the expectation is that the student will return to his or her program within the time frame indicated on the LOA form.

A student on LOA retains his or her existing program year and is considered "Active" but "On Leave." The student should ensure that contact information and other relevant data are kept current through the Office of the Registrar. An LOA is permitted only for students in good standing and does not constitute a waiver of the time frame for program completion. LOA status is not intended to merely delay program deadlines or other program responsibilities but is rather a genuine absence from the Seminary community.

If during the LOA the student finds that he or she must withdraw from the Seminary or needs further extended leave beyond what was originally filed, he or she must communicate his or her intentions to their Student Service Advisor. Note: LOA beyond two consecutive Fall or Spring semesters (Summer semesters excluded) is considered withdrawal from the Seminary and the student must reapply with no guarantee of readmission.

Withdrawal and Readmission

If a student desires to withdraw from the Seminary with no intentions of returning, the student must complete the Withdrawal Form (available from your Student Service Advisor). The student should speak with their Student Service Advisor before submission of the form to ensure that all matters are in proper order. Please see the "Withdrawal from Courses" to become aware of how it will academically effect the student's grades. Withdrawal is not complete until final settlements have been made with the Offices of Accounting, Financial Aid and the Registrar. Withdrawal from the Seminary deactivates the student's file and if he or she desires to return at a future date, the student must reapply with no guarantee of readmission.

Students who do not enroll for three consecutive Fall or Spring semesters (Summer semesters excluded) will be automatically withdrawn from their program and from the Seminary. Withdrawn students who desire to return must apply for readmission through the Admissions Office. Note: Withdrawn students who apply for readmission are subject to the program requirements in effect at the time of readmission rather than those from the time of initial admission.

Involuntary Leave of Absence

In addition to similar provisions in the Student Conduct Policy, Phoenix Seminary allows the administration to place a student on immediate leave if any of the following are in evidence: self-harm; threat to others; or damage of property. In order to have the involuntary leave of absence lifted, the student must undergo a mental health evaluation by a licensed mental health professional in active clinical practice. Returning to seminary is contingent upon the health provider's professional judgment that the student is sufficiently recovered to resume study.

Withdrawal from Courses

Students who are currently enrolled may drop from a class without academic penalty during the course drop period. A withdrawal after the course drop period will be recorded as "WF" (withdrew while failing) in all courses and calculated in the student's grade point average (GPA). To receive a final grade of "WP" (withdrew while passing), calculated in the student's GPA, in all courses, student should contact their Student Service Advisor and submit an academic petition no later than two weeks after they signed the withdrawal form. A "WP" is only applicable to students passing the course at time of request. The Academic Petition Committee will consider granting permission to withdraw without academic penalty based on serious, extenuating circumstances. The official withdrawal date is the date the Student Service Advisor is notified of the student's intention to withdraw. Students can withdraw from a course(s) up to two weeks before the last day of class(es). Students who desire to withdraw from their course(s) but do not desire to withdraw from the Seminary should use the Course Withdrawal Form (available from the Student Service Advisor).

Timeframe for Program Completion

Coursework must generally be completed within the established timeframe as measure from the date of entry into the program:

Master of Divinity	6 years
Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies)	4 years
Master of Arts in Counseling	5 years
Master of Arts in Ministry	4 years

Graduate Diploma	3 years
Master of Theology	3 years
Doctor of Ministry	6 years

Some students may find it difficult to complete the course of study within the established timeframe. If additional time is needed, a Degree Completion Plan must be approved by the Registrar.

Graduation

Any student who plans to participate in the graduation ceremony and changes their degree, needs to do so before March 1st. Any student who changes their degree after March 1st will be eligible to participate in the graduation ceremony of the next year.

Graduation Requirements

To graduate from Phoenix Seminary, the student must:

1. Give evidence of biblical understanding, godly character and readiness for ministry;
2. Complete the prescribed course of study within the timeframe for program completion with acceptable academic standing;
3. Sign an affirmation of the Phoenix Seminary Statement of Faith;
4. Submit the graduation application by the posted deadline;
5. Settle all financial obligations with a zero balance, including payment of the graduation fee. Diplomas will be held for remaining balances;
6. Receive the recommendation of the Faculty and approval by the Board of Directors for graduation;
7. Complete the Graduating Student Questionnaire;
8. Students in the MDiv, MA (BTS), MAC, and MAM program need to take the Bible and Theology test and pass with a minimum score of 80%.
9. Attend commencement exercises. Permission to graduate in absentia should be requested in writing from the Registrar at least six weeks prior to commencement. Students graduating in absentia are still required to pay the full graduation fee.

Additional degree-specific graduation requirements are described in Academic Programs.

Commencement Ceremony

The commencement ceremony is held annually at the end of the spring semester. Faculty believes commencement is a vital part of the academic calendar. All non-graduating students are encouraged to attend the commencement ceremony to show support for the graduates. Degrees are awarded each semester upon completion of all degree requirements. The last day of the semester as indicated by the academic calendar is considered the official date of graduation.

Summer graduates who will complete their degree requirements with no more than eight credit hours of coursework may participate in the commencement ceremony preceding their final semester.

Graduation Fees

Graduation Fee (Doctor of Ministry) $185

Graduation Fee (Masters and Graduate Diploma) $160

The graduation fee is required for all graduates including in absentia. It covers the cost for regalia, diploma, and ten graduation announcements.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Course Extensions

In the rare cases of serious illness, family emergency, military assignment or other extenuating circumstances, a student may submit an academic petition to the Assistant Dean of Academic Services through their Student Services Advisor requesting a formal course extension no later than two weeks before the last day of class. A course extension allows the student to complete coursework beyond the end of the semester until a newly specified deadline. If the student fails to complete the coursework by the end of the specified period, the course extension will be changed to an appropriate letter grade based on completed course requirements.

Repeating a Course

Students may repeat any course in which a grade of C, D, F, WF, WP or U was received. When completed, only the last grade will be used in determining the grade point average. The former grades will remain on the student's academic transcript followed by an * indicating that the course was retaken.

Grade Appeals

If a student feels that his or her final semester grade in a given course is not equitable, the student should consult with the course instructor. If the student is not satisfied, he or she may appeal in writing to the Academic Petition Committee. The Academic Petition Committee will confer with the instructor and seek a satisfactory resolution of the problem. The written appeal must be made within the subsequent semester.

Transcripts

Students and alumni are entitled to receive transcripts of their completed coursework if they have no financial obligations to the Seminary. The Transcript Request Form is available on www.ps.edu under Students > Forms and Documents. An official transcript will be issued to appropriate institutions or individuals in a sealed envelope within ten business days of the receipt of the signed transcript request and payment. Requests made at the end of a semester will be processed within ten business days after final grades post. Unofficial transcripts may be obtained free of charge through the Student Portal or requested through the Office of the Registrar.

Transcripts from other institutions contained in student files are the property of Phoenix Seminary and as such are under the control of the Office of the Registrar. While federal law allows that students may review the content of their academic files, transcripts from other institutions submitted to Phoenix Seminary for admissions or transfer credit evaluation will not be photocopied or forwarded elsewhere.

Records Retention

Phoenix Seminary retains a variety of records pertinent to the academic progress of students. These records are available to faculty and staff who have a legitimate educational interest in the student. Educational records are released to third parties only with the student's written authorization.

Phoenix Seminary retains documents for approved applicants for up to two years. For applicants who do enroll, the Seminary retains documents in their official files for two years beyond the date of last attendance. Basic application materials and the official records of academic achievement at Phoenix Seminary are retained permanently.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 governs students' rights of privacy and access to their educational records. Students have the right to inspect their files and all materials therein, except those items specifically waived by the student. Students wishing to view their files should contact the Registrar.

Student Privacy

It is the policy of Phoenix Seminary to adhere to the provisions of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, also known as the Buckley Amendment.

Phoenix Seminary and Ottawa University communicate on a need-to-know basis regarding students' academic progress in the cooperative MAC program and other program-related issues.

Course Recording Policy

Many students find it helpful to record their course lectures so they can review them again. Students must always request the instructor's permission to record a course. "Taking the course" by listening to recordings made in class is not permitted except in cases of a formally-petitioned independent study. The instructor is not responsible to record classes for absent students for any reason.

Audio/Video Recording of Classes

By enrolling for classes at Phoenix Seminary students voluntarily agree to have themselves recorded. The school “captures” many class sessions (including breaks) in high-definition video for use in construction of online courses. Students must leave the classroom if they wish to discuss confidential subjects with the professor or other students.

Photography/Videography for Marketing Purposes

Occasionally a photographer or videographer is on hand to take classroom and event photos. Enrollment at Phoenix Seminary implies consent for use of photographs and video in limited ways to promote the Seminary. If students must maintain privacy for security reasons, please contact the Registrar.

Copyright Notice

Any and all class materials, outlines, handouts, syllabi, Power Point presentations, etc. (including audio and video recordings) are the intellectual property of the course professor. Copyright and all rights concerning distribution, transmission, release or duplication in any form and by any means including electronic media, of this material belongs to the course instructor, who has sole decision-making authority concerning requests for release, use or publication.

Teaching Assistants

Many professors at Phoenix Seminary utilize teaching assistants. Under the professor’s supervision and his or her direction, teaching assistants may grade student assignments and assist students as needed. The grading of student assignments including grades, as well as all verbal and written conversations with students and the professor regarding student performance, will be kept in confidence by the teaching assistant. The professor of record is ultimately responsible for the course grading.

Human Subject Research Ethical Guidelines

When research conducted by members of the Phoenix Seminary community involves human subjects, the paramount responsibility of those members is to the human subjects they study. When there is a conflict of interest, these subjects always come first. It is essential that the rights, interests and sensitivities of those being studied be safeguarded. Among other things, research subjects have the right to remain anonymous; the right to understand the nature, purpose and intended use of the research; the right to understand the possible consequences of the research; and the right, if any, to fair compensation for their services. (Adapted from The Statement on Ethics of the American Anthropological Association). At Phoenix Seminary, human subject research is overseen by the Protection of Human Rights Research Internal Review Board. Students who expect to engage in human subject research should speak to their professor for more information.

Online Learning

A maximum of 41 credits in the Master of Divinity and 21 credits in the Master of Arts in Ministry program may be completed through online learning, whether taken at Phoenix Seminary or transferred from another institution. The Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies), Master of Arts in Ministry Christian Studies, and the Graduate Diploma are offered completely online.

While the Phoenix Seminary Faculty's philosophy of education places a priority on the importance of face-to-face instruction and ministry formation in traditional classroom settings, they also recognize the value in offering online courses.

Online courses are available for full academic credit to those enrolled in Seminary's degree and diploma programs and may also be accessed on a non-credit basis. Online courses offered by Phoenix Seminary meet all applicable regulations of State and Federal agencies and the criteria of our professional (ATS) and regional (HLC) accrediting agencies.

Phoenix Seminary online courses are multifaceted, consisting of learning experiences such as captured lectures, assigned readings, projects, research papers, quizzes, discussion forums and examinations. The classes require regular and substantive student-faculty and student-student communication. Courses are often taught/facilitated by the faculty member whose lectures form the backbone of the course or by qualified online instructors who facilitate the course, using the captured lectures of the professor who developed the course. Online courses follow a traditional 15-week semester format in the fall and spring semesters, but they are adapted in the summer semesters to follow the accelerated 10-week format. Online courses will appear in the semester course schedules with course numbers followed by the letter "o".

State Authorization

Phoenix Seminary seeks to offer our online program and classes in as many states, districts, and territories as possible. For this reason, we are an institutional participant in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) initiative. In this agreement, the Seminary has reciprocity with other SARA states, districts and territories for its distance education programs. It is intended to make it easier for students in another state to take online courses offered by Phoenix Seminary. Please visit the NC-SARA website (<http://nc-sara.org>) for the most current list of states that participate in SARA.

Technical Skills Required to Complete Online Coursework

To complete the requirements of a Phoenix Seminary online course you must have the ability:

1. To use a computer word processor such as Microsoft Word;
2. To launch a web browser (see above) and complete an online application at the seminary website for admission to Phoenix Seminary;
3. To register and pay tuition and fees for classes via the student portal;
4. To log into the seminary's Moodle Rooms Learning Management System (PS Online) and establish access using a password/key provided to registered students;
5. To access course materials and discussion forums by clicking on the items and drop-down menus displayed on the course page in Moodle Rooms;
6. To send and receive email;
7. To send assignments to the professor as an attachment to email or through the electronic course dropbox in Moodle Rooms;
8. To complete course evaluations and related assessment surveys online.

Online Student Serves and Support

Once admitted, online students are assigned a “personal librarian” at the Seminary Library with whom they may communicate by email, telephone or Skype video call.

- Academic advising may be obtained from the student’s assigned Student Services Advisor.
- Career counseling is provided by the Dean of Students.
- Technical assistance is available by contacting OnlineSupport@ps.edu.

Mentoring Program

The purpose of personal mentoring is to stimulate students to grow in godliness to increasingly embody the character of Christ and the lifestyle of mature Christian disciples.

Why does Phoenix Seminary require mentoring?

Personal character development does not happen in isolation. The focus of the Mentoring Program is character development. Through a Personal Development Plan, the student will create specific personal objectives for each of the four character attributes below. The mentoring relationship provides accountability as the student progresses toward their objectives.

In the area of Character Development, graduates will:

1. Evidence an increasing love and growing accountability to God and to the body of Christ.
2. Demonstrate Christ-like character and personal integrity.
3. Evidence strong moral and ethical standards in both personal and professional relationships and duties.
4. Demonstrate mental and emotional health.

Who participates in the mentoring program?

A mentoring relationship is required for all MDiv, MAC, MA (BTS) (on-campus only), and MAM students. Students and mentors may choose to continue meeting beyond Mentoring Program requirements.

How are students and mentors connected?

The student prayerfully chooses someone in his or her Christian community who has the spiritual maturity and life experience to provide the student with wisdom and accountability. The student is to ask that individual to consider serving as their official Phoenix Seminary mentor.

Before the end of the third week of their first semester of enrollment, the student is to contact the Mentoring Department in order to provide the Director of Mentoring with contact information for their mentor candidate. If the student cannot identify anyone to serve as their mentor, the Director of Mentoring will assist them in connecting with a mentor. All new mentors must be approved by the Director of Mentoring. Students are required to communicate with the Mentoring Department prior to the end of their first semester. Failure to do so will result in the inability to register for the subsequent semester. The mentor's input will also be requested for use in the Periodic Faculty Reviews.

Academic Programs

Master of Divinity (MDiv)

Degree Purpose

The Master of Divinity degree is the primary academic program at Phoenix Seminary. Students who plan to be pastors, Bible teachers, missionaries, or counselors are especially encouraged to enroll in the Master of Divinity program.

The Master of Divinity program is designed to equip students for professional, vocational ministry in church and para-church settings. This may include a broad range of occupations, including the pastorate, intercultural service, Christian leadership, pastoral counseling, chaplaincy, evangelism, and youth ministry. In many churches and denominations, the MDiv degree has been recommended for those preparing for ordination. It can also provide the academic basis for the ThM, DMin or PhD degrees.

The Master of Divinity program includes personal training that can scarcely be acquired anywhere else. It provides the skills of biblical interpretation, including competency in Greek and Hebrew, careful theological analysis, and wise evaluation of the thought and events of church history, and also in the effective use of these skills in preaching, Bible teaching, church leadership, counseling, and cross-cultural ministry. These specialized skills are taught at Phoenix Seminary by competent faculty members who have been experts in their fields for many years.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Master of Divinity degree program should be able to:

1. Know and apply Scripture using proper hermeneutical principles.
2. Articulate sound doctrine according to historic Christian orthodoxy.
3. Explain how to shepherd people with biblical wisdom.
4. Articulate his or her own growing and healthy relationship with God and neighbor.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Divinity program must have earned an accredited baccalaureate degree (or its equivalent) that includes exposure to a breadth of liberal arts. Phoenix Seminary encourages undergraduate course work in philosophy and the history of Western Civilization. An undergraduate GPA of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) is required. Those who do not meet these academic requirements may petition the Admissions Committee for special consideration. Applicants must have vocational goals consistent with the design of the Master of Divinity. Applicants must demonstrate evidence of mature Christian character and ministry potential.

The Master of Divinity requires the completion of 92 semester hours within six years with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0.

On the Importance of Biblical Languages in the MDiv

We have always been a people of the Book. Amidst fads, renewal flows from a careful, humble, prayerful reading of Scripture. There is no more careful way to do this than hearing and engaging with the original words in Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek. This is self-evident to anyone who undertakes the discipline of learning the biblical languages. Furthermore, mature Christians come to expect this competence from their teachers and preachers. It is for this reason that Phoenix Seminary places such an emphasis on the original languages in all concentration of the Master of Divinity.

Phoenix Seminary Ministry Apprenticeship Alliance

The Ministry Apprenticeship Alliance (MAA) is available to all Master of Divinity students. The MAA aims to join rigorous scholarship and supervised ministry experience and mentoring in the context of approved churches. The MAA is an expansion of Phoenix Seminary’s theological classes that integrates experiential learning, structured supervision, and disciplined spiritual formation with practical day-to-day ministry training. Phoenix Seminary students who participate in the MAA will be able to earn up to 18 hours of course credit towards core and elective requirements in the MDiv degree in their approved ministerial contexts. Pre-approval is required for all courses. For further information concerning the courses, please refer to the course description section of the Academic Catalog. Contact your Student Services Advisor if interested in registering for any of the courses.

Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies)

[MA (BTS)]

Degree Purpose

The Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) is available 100% online or in our traditional campus setting. The flexibility this degree provides is ideal for students currently serving in churches or para-church organizations, allowing them to obtain graduate Biblical and Theological education while learning practical ministry skills in their current church or para-church ministry contexts. Course completed in this program may be transferred to other programs such as the Master of Divinity. Because students have the option to complete a thesis, this degree may be used as the academic foundation needed to continue in a PhD program. This degree is also an ideal option for those in secular vocations who want to do graduate studies in Bible and Theology. Those whose work requires frequent travel can login anywhere with broadband internet access.

While pursuing the Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) you will engage with an outstanding faculty in the systematic study of Scripture and theology, be exposed to contemporary theological issues, and learn to think biblically, independently and constructively. Campus students will also be directed by a Seminary mentor or local church mentor during their training for the personal development of Christ-like character.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) should be able to:

1. Know and apply Scripture using proper hermeneutical principles.
2. Articulate sound doctrine according to historic Christian orthodoxy.
3. Demonstrate competency in research skills for academic study of the Scriptures and Christian theology.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) must have earned an accredited baccalaureate degree (or its equivalent) that includes exposure to a breadth of liberal arts. Phoenix Seminary encourages undergraduate coursework in philosophy and the history of Western civilization. A cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) is required. Those who do not meet these academic requirements may petition the Admissions Committee for special consideration. Applicants must also demonstrate evidence of mature Christian character.

A maximum of 50 percent (23 semester credit hours) of the coursework required for the Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) may be transferred from another seminary or graduate school when the transfer credits fit the nature of the program and other requirements are met. Only courses completed with a grade of B or higher will be accepted in transfer to this program.

Mentoring*

On-Campus students enrolled in the MA (BTS) are required to participate in the seminary's Mentoring program. This requirement does not apply to those completing the entire program outline.

Graduation Requirements

The Master of Arts (Biblical and Theological Studies) requires the completion of 46 semester hours within four years with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Technical Skills Required

To complete the requirements of a Phoenix online course you must have the ability to fulfill some technical requirements.

*Online students may take the opposite of the required language they are taking. For example, if a student is taking NT512 and NT513, they may use OT512 and OT513 towards elective hours. Ground student may also take other language courses that are offered only on campus towards elective hours. For example, a ground student could take NT/OT514 or OT/NT electives as long as all prerequisites are met.

Master of Arts in Ministry (MAM)

Degree Purpose

The Master of Arts in Ministry prepares students for Christian leadership other than pulpit/preaching ministries. It specifically equips students for a variety of professional church and para-church ministries or as church lay leaders. It is expressly not designed to prepare students academically for doctoral studies or for ordination in those churches that require the Master of Divinity degree.

Students will engage in the systematic study of the Scriptures and theology while being exposed to current theological issues and positions with the goal of equipping the student to think biblically, independently and constructively in vital areas of ministry. The student will also be directed by a Seminary mentor or local church mentor during his or her training for the personal development of character.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Master of Arts in Ministry should be able to:

1. Know and apply Scripture using proper hermeneutical principles.
2. Articulate sound doctrine according to historic Christian orthodoxy.
3. Demonstrate ministry competency in an applied setting.
4. Articulate his or her own growing and healthy relationship with God and neighbor.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Master of Arts in Ministry must have earned an accredited baccalaureate degree (or its equivalent) that includes exposure to a breadth of liberal arts. Phoenix Seminary encourages undergraduate coursework in philosophy and the history of Western civilization. A cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) is required. Those who do not meet these academic requirements may petition the Admissions Committee for special consideration. Applicants must have vocational goals consistent with the design of the Master of Arts in Ministry. Applicants must also demonstrate evidence of mature Christian character and ministry potential.

Graduate Diploma in Biblical and Theological Studies (GDBTS)

The Graduate Diploma in Biblical and Theological Studies will equip students with foundational biblical knowledge and skills to serve Jesus Christ effectively. After completing this program, students will have an increased confidence in “rightly handling the word of truth” (2 Timothy 2:15).

The Graduate Diploma is available on campus, online or both.

Degree Purpose

The Graduate Diploma provides foundational biblical education for those in support roles and non-vocational ministries. It is ideal for elders and lay leaders who are seeking to improve their understanding of Scripture. It is not intended for those in vocational pastoral and teaching ministries. The Graduate Diploma can also provide seminary studies on a trial basis for persons who wish to test their gifts and skills with a view toward further preparation for full-time Christian ministry. Graduate Diploma coursework may later be applied toward a master’s degree program.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Graduate Diploma in Biblical and Theological Studies should be able to:

1. Articulate important biblical themes.
2. Articulate key theological concepts.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Graduate Diploma in Biblical and Theological Studies program must have earned an accredited baccalaureate degree (or its equivalent) that includes exposure to a breadth of liberal arts. A cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.5 (on a 4.0 scale) is required. Applicants who do not meet these academic requirements may petition the Admissions Committee for special consideration. Applicants must also demonstrate evidence of mature Christian character and ministry potential.

Graduation Requirements

The Graduate Diploma in Biblical and Theological Studies requires the completion of 22 semester hours within three years with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Continuing Education

Continuing education is an excellent option for lay men and women who desire to deepen their understanding of God's Word and to increase their effectiveness in ministry. These students have the opportunity to experience some of the benefits of seminary training without the cost and time commitment typically required.

Non-credit courses are not transferable as academic credit (though they are transcribed and are counted towards Continuing Education Units or CEUs by organizations such as the Association of Christian Schools International). If a non-credit participant is subsequently admitted to a credit program and wishes to receive credit for a course, the course must be repeated with all work completed and graded during the repeated course.

Non-credit students are expected to meet all course prerequisites. Enrollment will be limited for some courses, with registration priority given to credit students.

Ordinarily, non-credit students should not participate in the classroom discussion unless invited to do so by the professor. Although non-credit students are not expected to complete assignments, their experience is enhanced if they complete the readings so that they can come to the classroom with the same shared background of information as the other students. Non-credit students must be respectful of the fact that class time with the professor is limited and priority needs to be given to credit students.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to Continuing Education must have earned a high school diploma or GED and be at least 21 years of age. Applicants must give evidence of a commitment to Jesus Christ. The Admissions Committee reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant for any reason.

Master of Theology

(ThM)

Degree Purpose

The ThM in Biblical Studies is an advanced post-graduate degree intended to prepare students with the knowledge and research skills required for in-depth study of the Bible. Students will have the opportunity to grow in their use of Hebrew and Greek, as well as advance their understanding of biblical theology and current trends in biblical studies.

Classified with research doctorates, the ThM is often an important stepping stone to the PhD degree. This degree is designed for those with an MDiv who want additional, focused training in biblical studies. Students will engage with an outstanding faculty in rigorous study of the Scriptures, be exposed to contemporary and historical biblical scholarship, learn to think critically, and communicate their ideas clearly. Due to the rigor of study and the intentionality of small class sizes, the Master of Theology is only available in our traditional campus setting.

Features

- Phoenix Seminary MDiv students with a cumulative GPA of 3.25, at least 60 hours completed in their program, and who have applied to the ThM, may be concurrently enrolled in both programs. Courses may be credited to both programs for students who have taken these courses during their MDiv at Phoenix Seminary (up to half the credits for the ThM [13 hours.]).
- A limited number of ThM Fellowships are available. Recipients of these stipends will work with Resident faculty in areas such as teaching, exam construction, rubric development, paper grading, and research.
- Full-time students may complete the ThM in 18 months (the equivalent of four semesters). The typical student will complete the program in a year and a half.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Master of Theology program should be able to:

1. Demonstrate advanced proficiency in scriptural exegesis, primarily in biblical languages.
2. Demonstrate a familiarity with the scholarship in biblical studies.
3. Demonstrate advanced research and writing capabilities by interacting in-depth with primary and secondary literature and communicating their research effectively.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the ThM program is competitive and limited to no more than 10 students per academic year. Applicants must have earned an ATS-accredited Master of Divinity degree (or its equivalent from “an institution of higher education accredited by a US agency recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation, or approved by a Canadian provincial quality assurance agency” (ATS Standard I.4.1) that includes both Hebrew (9 semester units) and Greek (9 semester units). Prerequisite language competency may be satisfied by taking languages at Phoenix Seminary. A cumulative graduate GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) is required. Those who do not meet these academic requirements may petition the Admissions Committee for special consideration. Applicants must also demonstrate evidence of aptness for post-graduate study and mature Christian character. Applicants are required to submit a major research paper (15-20 pages) in the discipline (Biblical Studies) in which they intend to major. International students may be asked to present a satisfactory TOFEL score

Transfer Credit

Up to 37 percent (9 semester units/credit hours) of the course work required for the Master of Theology may be transferred from another ATS accredited seminary or graduate school when the transfer credit fits the nature of the program and other requirements are met. Only courses completed with a grade of B or higher and completed within the last 10 years will be accepted in transfer into this program.

Supervision

Upon acceptance to the program, students will be assigned a supervisor in their field of study. Supervisors will help guide the student academically and personally through the program.

Thesis Requirements

ThM students who intend to pursue an academic doctorate should complete a thesis. Those planning to complete a thesis should familiarize themselves with the requirements and procedures laid out in the Master of Theology Thesis Guidebook (which can be found on the Phoenix Seminary website). A ThM thesis is typically 50-75 pages. Students are required to pass a Thesis Defense – an oral examination by the faculty on their thesis. Only one retake is allowed.

Graduation Requirements

The Master of Theology requires the completion of 26 semester credit hours within three years with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. General graduation requirements are detailed on page 44.

Culture

The Master of Theology is a residential program that treasures academic community on the campus of Phoenix Seminary. We believe an excellent academic culture manifests itself in substantive interactions between faculty and students and their peers both in the classroom and outside of it. In Old Testament and New Testament Seminars, we expect students to strive towards academic excellence by presenting their own work in the forms of scholarly reviews and research papers and also in constructive dialogue over the work of their peers. Good conversations that begin in class are often continued in other places on campus.

Since we attempt to foster this type of culture in the ThM program, we do not attempt to simulate it in an online modality or permit the substitution of independent or individualized studies for Old Testament and New Testament Seminars.

Doctor of Ministry (DMin)

Degree Purpose

The Doctor of Ministry is an advanced, professional degree that prepares people more deeply for effective, biblically and theologically robust ministry. Through a combination of peer, self-directed, research, and field-based learning, students will gain advanced theological and biblical skills, develop new ministry and leadership capacities, and practice rigorous integration of biblical-theological knowledge, contextual analysis, and ministry practice. The program culminates in a written project that utilizes biblical and theological research methods and resources to generate new knowledge regarding the practice of ministry in the context of the student's vocational calling.

Student Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Doctor of Ministry program should be able to:

1. Demonstrate advanced theological acumen, in order to critically engage the ministry context with rigorous theological analysis.
2. Be able to devise biblical-theological responses to ministry issues that illustrate the ability to identify, frame, and respond with robust contextual awareness.
3. Have appraised his or her leadership capacity and developed a plan of growth for leadership and the development of leaders in the local ministry context.
4. Value personal and spiritual maturity through self-assessment and reflection on how vocational calling might be deepened through a process of personal and spiritual development.

Our courses are designed to challenge and enrich students both personally and professionally. This happens in several ways:

- Interaction with outstanding resident and adjunct faculty mentors who have proven track records in ministry.
- Exposure to contemporary resources designed to help students keep their ministry both biblically accurate and culturally relevant.
- Camaraderie with ministry peers that will encourage the student's heart and stimulate the student's mind.
- Involvement in practical ministry projects that will enhance the student's current ministry.

Admission Requirements

The ideal preparation for the Doctor of Ministry program is an earned MDiv from an accredited institution with at least 12 hours of Hebrew and/or Greek and 3-5 years of ministry experience after the completion of the M.Div.

Applicants must have:

- An earned bachelor's degree from an accredited institution with a minimum GPA of 3.0. (Students who do not meet this requirement may still be considered for the program.)
- An earned M.Div. from an accredited institution with a minimum of 6 hours of biblical language study and a GPA of 3.0 or better.
- Applicants without the MDiv who hold an earned master's degree from an accredited institution will be considered on a case-by-case basis. In general, successful applicants will have a minimum of 48 hours of graduate coursework in the areas of biblical, theological, and ministry studies.

Applicants must be able to demonstrate:

- The ability to thoughtfully interpret scripture and the theological tradition of one's ministry context
- The capacity to understand and adapt one's ministry to the cultural context
- A basic self-understanding of one's ministerial identity and vocational calling
- Evidence of mature Christian character
- A readiness to engage in ongoing personal and spiritual formation for one's ministry
- An accredited master's degree related to one's ministry setting or vocational calling
- Significant ministry experience, including experience past the awarding of the qualifying master's degree
 - Ministry experience is considered on a case-by-case basis. Phoenix Seminary typically looks for at least 3 years of significant ministry experience in church or para-church settings. Significant part-time, full-time, paid and unpaid ministry leadership experience may all be considered in the assessment of ministry experience.

Course Descriptions – Master’s Level

Biblical Communication (BC)

BC498 Graduate Research and Writing

This course is an essential introduction to graduate theological education at Phoenix Seminary. Every discipline has its unique style and formatting – theology is no exception. The course is designed to hone student skills of graduate theological research, reading, and writing. Students will learn argumentation, effective reading strategies, how to format papers, and how to use the library. This class will greatly enhance the student’s ability to perform at the graduate level and set the stage for their seminary career as it relates to spiritual, emotional, and physical health.

1 credit hour. Note: Required within the first two semesters for all credit students.

BC509 Advanced Teaching Skills

Teaches students how to turn passive participants into active learners. Students will discover motivational keys that stimulate the learner to inquiry and growth. Assignments are designed to give students hands-on opportunities to apply what they are learning.

3 credit hours.

BC512 Homiletics: Principles of Preaching

This course is designed to develop speech/rhetorical skills essential to effective oral communication, with a view to their application to Bible teaching and expository preaching. Uses New Testament passages to develop structures for oral communication and proper handling of biblical texts.

4 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Note: Enrollment limited to 12 credit students. Formerly coded as BC501.

BC513 Advanced Preaching Skills

This course trains students by practice to preach expository sermons from a variety of biblical genres with greater clarity and relevance. Additionally, this course will expose students to preaching from a variety of cultural contexts for the purpose of helping them identify elements of their own preaching styles that are culturally specific.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513, OT512, OT513. Note: Enrollment is limited to 12 credit students. Formerly coded as BC502.

BC580 Biblical Communication Individualized Study

A unique course designed by a faculty advisor and student to develop competence in the area of biblical communication.

1-4 credit hours. Frequency: Any semester. Prerequisites: 3.4 GPA and approved Academic Petition. Note: May be repeated for credit as BC581 when section content differs.

BC591 Internship I*

Designed for the MDiv BTS student to develop and refine biblical communication and other skills in preparation for vocational ministry. You will grow in competency through substantial ministry responsibility and accountability to a competent ministry supervisor. 120 hours spanning one or two semesters.

2 credit hours. Frequency: Every semester. Prerequisites: Completion of 30 credit hours toward the degree. Note: May be repeated for elective credit as BC592 Internship II. The Internship Information and Registration Packet (available from the BC591 course page on <http://ps.mrooms.net>) should be submitted to the Director of Field Education well before the start of the semester in which the student plans to complete an Internship and no later than the second Friday of the semester.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) may in some cases be undertaken to fulfill requirements for BC591 and/or general elective credit. Students who successfully complete military Chaplain's School as chaplain candidates and provide official documentation of completion, will receive up to four hours of transfer credit toward BC591 and/or general electives, subject to the approval of the Director of Field Education and/or the Registrar (credit is limited to programs of the United States Department of Defense or Canadian National Defense).*

Students who are planning to pursue a career in academia should enroll in the BC591 Internship Future Professors Program. The Future Professors Program allows students to minister in a supervised classroom context at Arizona Christian University. For further information, please contact the Director of Field Education.

BC595 Selected Topics in Biblical Communication

An occasional Biblical Communication elective offered as the need and opportunity arise. Course content is dependent on the expertise of available faculty (resident, adjunct and visiting), current issues of academic and practical importance and overall balance in regard to recent course offerings.

1-4 credit hours. Note: May be repeated for credit when section content differs.

Biblical Literature (BL)

BL508 Survey of the Old Testament

A survey of the Old Testament beginning with principles involved in interpreting historical, wisdom and prophetic literature. Emphasis is placed on understanding the purpose and message of each book and attention is given to understanding how each book functions as the authoritative word of God and how this practical wisdom can be applied to life.

3 credit hours. Note: Required for MAC program.

BL509 Survey of the New Testament

A survey of the New Testament beginning with principles involved in interpreting NT literature. Gives an overview of the Gospels with an emphasis upon Second Temple Judaism and the social worlds of Galilee, Samaria and Judea. Also covers historical issues in the Book of Acts and the development of the church in the Pauline and General letters as well as the eschatology of the Book of Revelation. Develops the ability to think biblically, interrelate theological convictions and make personal application.

3 credit hours. Note: Required for MAC program.

BL511 Old Testament 1: Genesis to Esther

A survey of Genesis through Esther, placing each in its historical, cultural, and theological context, with appropriate attention given to its contribution to biblical theology and its relevance to Christian life and doctrine.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall or online any semester. Note: Formerly two separate courses coded as BL502 and BL503.

BL512 Old Testament 2: Job to Malachi

A survey of Job through Malachi, placing each in its historical, cultural, and theological context, with appropriate attention given to its contribution to biblical theology and its relevance to Christian life and doctrine.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring or online any semester. Note: Formerly two separate courses coded as BL503 and BL504.

BL513 New Testament 1: Matthew to Acts

A survey of Matthew through Acts, placing each in its historical, cultural, and theological context, with appropriate attention given to its contribution to biblical theology and its relevance to Christian life and doctrine.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall or online any semester. Note: Formerly two separate courses coded as BL505 and BL506.

A survey of Romans through Revelation, placing each in its historical, cultural, and theological context, with appropriate attention given to its contribution to biblical theology and its relevance to Christian life and doctrine.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring or online any semester. Note: Formerly two separate courses coded as BL506 and BL507.

BL515 Hermeneutics: Principles of Interpretation

Hermeneutics teaches the theory and practice of interpretation. In addition to learning a careful method, this course surveys the history of biblical interpretation and introduces philosophy of language in order to make competent interpreters of Scripture. This course will also teach how to apply the ancient truths of the Bible to the contemporary world.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Note: Formerly coded as BL501 and BL501A.

BL523 Ecclesiastes

An in-depth study of this book of Hebrew wisdom literature in which the author reflects on the meaning of life. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the purpose and message of the book and how it functions as the authoritative word of God and its relevance to our lives today.

2 credit hours. Frequency: Online any semester

BL524 Jeremiah

Examines the book of Jeremiah giving attention to historical background and critical issues while focusing primarily on detailed literary and theological analysis of its content. Special emphasis is placed on understanding prophetic literature, the relationship between Jeremiah and Kings, and the similarities and contrasts with the message and ministry of Ezekiel.

2 credit hours. Prerequisite: BL504 or BL512

BL532 Isaiah

Examines the book of Isaiah, giving special attention to historical background and the critical issues surrounding the book while focusing primarily on detailed analysis of its contents. Special emphasis is placed on the theological significance of the purpose and message of the book for both Old and New Testaments and how to understand ancient prophecy and its relevance to today.

2 credit hours.

BL537 Daniel

An in-depth study of the prophetic book of Daniel, giving special attention to its historical background, its message and purpose and its prophetic nature in God's unfolding plan for this world. This course emphasizes the prophetic framework laid out in the book and how it relates to the book of Revelation.

2 credit hours.

BL550 The Gospel of Matthew

An exegetical study of how Matthew, as a first-century Jew, makes sense of both his Messiah and his Scripture. In addition to surveying higher critical issues such as the historical reliability of the Gospels and the “synoptic problem,” this course explores the important ministry themes of repentance, righteousness and hope.

2 credit hours

BL553 The Gospel of John

According to the church father Clement of Alexandria, John is to the Synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke) as the spirit is to the body. The evangelist and theologian shares how the life of Christ unites to disciples in any generation through the indwelling and leading of the Holy Spirit. The course will look back at the first century, giving attention to culture and Jewish-Hellenistic thought, but also turn with God to face our own.

2 credit hours

BL555 The Gospels: An Expanded Survey

This course is an in-depth study and verse-by-verse exposition of material that cannot be covered in the BL513 New Testament 1: Matthew to Acts core courses due to time constraints. More attention is given to Luke and John and their complementary perspectives on social justice and spiritual formation.

2 credit hours.

BL556 The Sermon on the Mount

This course places the Sermon on the Mount in the broader context of early Christian discipleship, with attention given to the Apostolic and Desert Fathers. It will operate with the conviction that discipleship is the way toward Evangelical renewal.

2 credit hours.

BL557 The Parables of Jesus

This course is a very close reading of Jesus’ parables, placing them in historical and theological context. Students will note similarities and differences with Rabbinic parables (mashalim) and explore their contemporary message.

2 credit hours.

BL559 Acts

Luke’s second book extends the story of Jesus to include his church. Acts provides essential history about the first followers of Jesus, but has also provided resources for the continual reformation of the church.

2 credit hours.

BL560 Romans

A thorough exposition of this great letter with an emphasis on Paul's teaching concerning salvation, Israel's future and life in the body of Christ. This course challenges you to make personal application from Romans to your own life.

2 credit hours.

BL561 1 Corinthians

An in-depth study of one of Paul's most practical letters. The focus will be on resolving problems within the body of Christ, such as sexual immorality, concern for the poor and spiritual gifts. Special emphasis will be on accurately interpreting the letter within its cultural setting and applying its truth for today.

2 credit hours.

BL566 1 & 2 Thessalonians

A study of the historical context, social setting, and epistolary structure of 1 and 2 Thessalonians, with an emphasis on the major themes and issues of these letters (models of behavior for church leaders, sanctity of sex, second coming of Christ and other matters concerning the end times, engaging in self-sufficient work, discipline in the church) and their message for the church today.

2 credit hours.

BL567 The Pastoral Epistles

A study of Paul's wise counsel for those in ministry from 1 and 2 Timothy and Titus. The focus of this course is on the development of spiritual maturity in the lives of believers.

2 credit hours.

BL569 Hebrews

A verse-by-verse study of an often misunderstood letter that demands skillful exegesis and depends on a proper hermeneutic to integrate Old Testament theology with the message of the New Testament. Special attention is given to the five warning passages and the importance of a consecrated life before God in light of the eschatological promise of Christ's coming kingdom.

2 credit hours.

BL570 James

An in-depth study of this practical book. Problem passages and theological tensions are explored. Special emphasis is given to following the author's argument and to enabling the student to work through the book inductively while gaining personal application.

2 credit hours.

BL572 1, 2 and 3 John

A verse-by-verse study of John's epistles. The primary emphases of the course are the marks of healthy Christian fellowship. Detailed consideration of the structure and theology of the books are a significant part of the course.

2 credit hours.

BL579 Revelation

A study of this exciting book with an emphasis on holy living in light of the return of the Messiah. The prophetic culmination of history and planet Earth will be seen. Methods of interpretation, problem passages and fulfillment of the biblical covenants will be examined.

2 credit hours.

Ministry Skills (MS)

MS503 Introduction to Pastoral Counseling

Examines the biblical foundation for pastoral counseling as well as the historical role and origin of the care of persons within the church. Biblical principles for guiding, sustaining, healing and reconciling individuals are explored as are common circumstances that draw people to seek biblical counsel and care.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring. Note: Formerly coded as MS502.

MS504 Leadership and Pastoral Competencies

In this course, students will learn ministry leadership principles that are biblically accurate and culturally relevant, which will equip them to lead in the church or the parachurch. This course also moves students toward general pastoral competency in the following areas: conducting funerals, weddings, baptisms, as well as the weekly rhythm of worship planning and execution, and other duties pastors routinely perform. An emphasis is placed on ministering for culturally diverse churches.

3 credit hours. Note: Formerly two separate courses coded as MS508 and MS509.

MS516 Developing a Women's Ministry

Designed to help the student acquire the leadership skills necessary for establishing and maintaining a women's ministry. Areas include visionary planning, creating and training a leadership team, clarifying resources, program planning and identifying the components of a healthy large or small church model.

2 credit hours.

MS520 Encouraging Women: Identity, Design, and Voice

Women the world over are often confused, abused and denied the truth about who they really are. This course explores historical, cultural and religious reasons why this occurs and develops a biblical worldview of personhood that includes identity, gifts and a call to stewardship. Students learn significant life principles related to identity that they can apply and teach others.

2 credit hours.

MS530 An Introduction to the Chaplaincy

Introduces the elements of pastoral care in specialized settings, with emphasis on military, hospital, law enforcement and legislative Chaplaincy. Topics include the dynamics of ministering in a multi-ethnic, multi-disciplinary and multi-faith environment; institutional and ecclesiastical endorsement and relations; and Chaplaincy and the law.

2 credit hours.

MS531 Church Planting: Biblical and Theological Foundations

Too much training in church planting is focused exclusively on method. Historically, such a focus on mere method has turned church growth into a machine for collecting bodies in pews, not for making disciples in mission. What did He mean when He said we are to make disciples, but that He would build His church? Although there will be discussion about practice in this course, our main task will be asking hard theological questions about our motivation and preparedness for the task of establishing churches. This course will help church planters think through key biblical and theological issues pertaining to church planting, with a view towards proper cultural contextualization in a Post-Christian society.

2 credit hours.

MS532 Church Planting Boot Camp

Introduces to the major start-up issues a planter faces in the first year of starting the new church. The course will cover 24 practical skills modules in the areas of personal preparation, strategic planning, core group development and public launching. This class uses a Boot Camp-style of training with lots of interaction, immediate application and immediate coaching applied to each training module.

2 credit hours.

MS580 Ministry Skills Individualized Study

A unique course designed by a faculty advisor and student to develop competence in the area of Ministry.

1-3 credit hours. Prerequisites: 3.4 GPA and approved Academic Petition. Note: May be repeated for credit as MS581 when section content differs.

MS591 Internship*

Designed for the MDiv IDS or MAM student to develop and refine ministry skills in preparation for ministry. You will grow in competency through substantial ministry responsibility and accountability to a competent ministry supervisor. 120 hours spanning one or two semesters. 2 credit hours. Frequency: Every semester. Prerequisites: Completion of 30 credit hours towards the degree. Note: May be repeated for elective credit as MS592 Internship II.

The Internship Information and Registration Packet (see the MS591 page on <http://ps.mrooms.net>) should be submitted to the Director of Field Education well before the start of the semester in which the student plans to complete an Internship and no later than the second Friday of the semester.]

*Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) may in some cases fulfill requirements for MS591 and/or general elective credit. Students who successfully complete military Chaplain's School as chaplain candidates and provide official documentation of completion, will receive up to four hours of transfer credit toward MS591 and/or general electives, subject to the approval of the Director of Field Education and/or the Registrar (credit is limited to programs of the United States Department of Defense or Canadian National Defense).

MS595 Selected Topics in Ministry

An occasional Ministry Skills elective offered as the need and opportunity arise. Course content is dependent on the expertise of available faculty (resident, adjunct and visiting), current issues of academic and practical importance and overall balance in regard to recent course offerings. 1-3 credit hours. Note: May be repeated for credit when section content differs.

New Testament Greek (NT)

Focuses upon the similarity and variation between the Synoptic Gospels. Several parallel passages are translated and discussed from the perspectives of the Synoptic Problem, Form, Redaction and Rhetorical criticism.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT556 The Sermon on the Mount (Greek Exegesis)

This course places the Sermon on the Mount in the broader context of early Christian discipleship, with attention given to the Apostolic and Desert Fathers. It will operate with the conviction that discipleship is the way toward Evangelical renewal.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT557 The Parables of Jesus (Greek Exegesis)

This is a very close reading of Jesus' parables in Greek. Students will deepen their knowledge of textual criticism, aspect and syntax. This is an excellent resource for those who intend to teach or preach the parables.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT560 Romans (Greek Exegesis)

A verse-by-verse reading of Romans, with attention given to textual criticism, syntax and semantics.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT565 Philippians (Greek Exegesis)

A close reading of Philippians in the Greek text. As part of the in-class discussion students are required to translate, decline and conjugate. Special attention will be given to Paul's hope in our union with Christ.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT569 Hebrews (Greek Exegesis)

An exegetical study of how the author of the epistle to the Hebrews interprets the Old Testament and other material, particularly how he makes use of sacrificial imagery in order to develop his soteriology. The study involves an exegetical analysis of passages pertaining to sacrifice, redemption, and related concepts.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT570 James (Greek Exegesis)

A verse-by-verse exposition. Emphasis includes the continued development of exegetical methodology, the investigation of interpretative options, and the discovery of practical application. Translation and a practical, exegetical sermon manuscript are required.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT580 New Testament Greek Individualized Study

A unique course designed by a faculty advisor and student to develop competence in the area of Greek grammar or exegesis.

1-3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NNT512, NT513 and NT514., 3.4 GPA and approved Academic Petition. Note: May be repeated for credit as NT581 when section content differs.

NT582 The Use of the Old Testament in the New Testament

Understanding of how and why the New Testament quotes and alludes to the Old Testament is foundational to the various disciplines of textual criticism, exegesis, hermeneutics, theology and to spiritual life. This course examines why and how various Old Testament passages are used by Jesus and the New Testament authors. This course includes discussion of biblical methodology, rabbinic exegesis, the unity of Scripture, typology and prophecy.

2 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT583 Readings in the Septuagint (Greek Exegesis)

This course will survey various texts from the Septuagint. It will also include an introduction to the Septuagint's origins, reception history into the Christian and Jewish communities, and relevance to textual criticism and exegesis.

2 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513, and NT514.

NT590 The Apostolic Fathers (Greek Exegesis)

This course is an introduction to the earliest Christian writings outside of the New Testament. Through them, students will explore the joys and challenges of the first followers of Jesus, who attempted to remain true to the teachings of the apostles. Attention will be given to the origin of the church in Syria, Rome and Asia Minor. The student is expected to translate from the Greek text.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT512, NT513 and NT514.

NT595 Selected Topics in Greek Language

An occasional Greek Language elective offered as the need and opportunity arise. Course content is dependent on the expertise of available faculty (resident, adjunct and visiting), current issues of academic and practical importance and overall balance in regard to recent course offerings.

Theology (TH)

TH500 Survey of Christian Theology

Surveys the principal areas of systematic theology, giving the student a basic overview of the doctrines of God, revelation (including Scripture), humanity, angels, Christ, the Holy Spirit, salvation, the Church and last things.

4 credit hours.

TH505 Apologetics: Defending the Faith

Christianity is increasingly being challenged by new religions and cults, as well as by the secularization of our culture. In this class, you will learn to explain what you believe and defend the great truths of our faith.

2 credit hours.

TH511 Prolegomena, Scripture, and God

This course introduces students to Systematic Theology prolegomena (theological introduction) and focuses on Bibliology (the Word of God) and Theology Proper (the person of God). Students will learn theological method and the doctrines of inspiration, inerrancy, the authority of Scripture, the nature of God, the Trinity, creation, and providence. Additionally, students will build their own theological convictions regarding these doctrines and think about how these doctrines apply to their own lives and to the churches they serve.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring or online every semester. Note: Formerly coded as TH501.

TH512 Anthropology, Christology, and Pneumatology

This course introduces students to the doctrines of anthropology (humanity), hamartiology (sin), angels, Pneumatology (the person and work of the Holy Spirit), and Christology (the person and work of Christ). Additionally, students will build their own theological convictions regarding these doctrines and think about how these doctrines apply to their own lives and to the churches they serve.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Note: Formerly coded as TH502.

TH513 Soteriology, Ecclesiology, and Eschatology

This course introduces students to soteriology (salvation), ecclesiology (church), and eschatology (last things). Additionally, students will build their own theological convictions regarding these doctrines and think about how these doctrines apply to their own lives and to the churches they serve.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Spring. Note: Formerly coded as TH503.

TH514 Systematic Theology: A Socratic Approach

This course prepares the student to clearly communicate what the student believes and why he/she believes it. Designed to help the student develop a personal, practical and applied systematic theology.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Prerequisites: BL515, TH511, TH512 and TH513. Note: Limited to MDiv students preparing for TH599 Theological Oral Exam. Concurrent enrollment in TH599 is suggested. Formerly coded as TH504.

TH515 Biblical Perspectives on Christian Prayer

Because biblical grounding is foundational to effective and meaningful communication with our Lord, this course explores what the Bible teaches and illustrates concerning prayer and the God to whom we pray. Students will be asked to reflect on their own Christian prayer experience as well as on challenges to a biblically-informed Christian spirituality posed by life in a post-modern, technological society.

2 credit hours.

TH516 Christian Ethics

This course will provide students with an overview of Christian ethics, placing particular emphasis on contemporary sexual ethics. The class will lay a biblical foundation for moral decision making and will then look at various specific contemporary issues, such as: abortion, racial justice, poverty, homosexuality, sexual abuse, pornography, sexual healing, divorce and remarriage, birth control and reproductive technology, euthanasia, and lying.

3 credit hours. Frequency: Spring. Note: Formerly coded as TH506.

TH517 Philosophy: Introduction to General Revelation

This course introduces the student to the fundamental questions of philosophy, including how we know (epistemology), what is real (ontology), and what is good (ethics). The course offers an overview of the major philosophical systems that have influenced Western history and evaluates the way different belief systems influence a person's worldview. Finally, the course will leverage the truth of general revelation to examine arguments against the Christian faith, to demonstrate the existence of God, and to show that God's moral law is written on the human heart.

3 credit hours.

TH520 The Character of God

A biblical and theological analysis of several less understood attributes of God, including immutability, eternity, omnipresence and trinitarian existence. Attention will be given to biblical support for each attribute, classical formulations, recent challenges and application to life.

2 credit hours.

TH525 Advanced Studies in Sanctification: Habits of Holiness

An in-depth study of how we grow spiritually as believers in Christ. The principles, processes and products of holy living are scripturally examined and personally applied.

2 credit hours.

TH530 Advanced Pneumatology: The Holy Spirit and Spiritual Gifts

An in-depth study of the person and work of the Holy Spirit. This class will cover topics including the person of the Spirit, supernatural gifts of the Spirit, Spirit baptism and the believer's victory over sin.

2 credit hours.

TH540 The Theology of Paul

Paul remains one of the most influential and controversial. This course analyzes the teachings of Paul while placing them in their historical, cultural and theological context.

2 credit hours.

TH570 Ethics of Business, Work and Possessions

This course examines Biblical perspectives on work and rest, buying and selling, wealth and poverty, borrowing and lending, employers and employees, the role of money, vocational calling, stewardship, use of the earth's resources, the role of government and economic systems.

2 credit hours.

TH572 Biblical Theology of Law, Politics and Government

Examines the Bible's teachings on the purpose of civil government, the kinds of laws a government should make, and how governments should function. Applies these teachings to a number of contemporary political issues such as freedom of religion, the influence of Christians on government, the role of courts, the protection of life, the definition of marriage, just war, immigration, care for the poor and wise use of the world's resources.

2 credit hours.

TH580 Theology Individualized Study

A unique course designed by a faculty advisor and student to develop competence in the area of Theology.

1-3 credit hours. Prerequisites: 3.4 GPA and approved Academic Petition. Notes: May be repeated for credit as TH581 when section content differs.

TH588 MA (BTS) Individualized Study

A capstone course designed by a resident faculty advisor and student to demonstrate mastery in the area of theological studies at the culmination of the MA (BTS) program. The area of study must be congruent with the MA (BTS) curriculum and related to the expertise of resident faculty. Course requirements will include a critical book review and a research paper of a minimum of 20 pages.

3 credit hours. Prerequisite: All required courses for the MA (BTS) except elective courses.

TH594 Theological Research Methods

The techniques for gaining bibliographical control over the literature of theological subjects. Attention also given to the planning, preparation and writing of theses.

2 credit hours.

TH595 Selected Topics in Theology

An occasional Theology elective offered as the need and opportunity arise. Course content is dependent on the expertise of available faculty (resident, adjunct and visiting), current issues of academic and practical importance and overall balance in regard to recent course offerings.

1–3 credit hours. Note: General elective for all programs except MAC. May be repeated for credit when section content differs.

TH599 Theological Oral Examination

MDiv students must complete the TH599 Theological Oral Examination prior to graduation. This comprehensive exam over biblical and theological topics is typically scheduled sometime during the final weeks of the Fall semester or the middle of the Spring semester. A panel of two or three faculty examiners will propose to students multiple doctrinal/theological issues, to which the student will respond with reasoned argument using two or more scriptures to support their positions. Additionally, faculty examiners may put forth a ministry scenario requiring similar theological/biblical reflection. The rubric for the oral examination, which lists the topics from which faculty members draw their questions, is distributed in BL515 Hermeneutics: Principles of Interpretation and TH514 Systematic Theology: A Socratic Approach. All students are strongly advised to enroll in TH504 Systematic Theology to aid them in preparing for the TH599 Theological Oral Examination.

Transcribed non-credit. Frequency: Every Fall and Spring. Prerequisite: TH511, TH512 and TH513. Notes: Prior or concurrent enrollment in TH514 Systematic Theology is strongly recommended.

Course Descriptions – Master of Theology

Biblical Communication (BC)

BC600 Advanced Biblical/Theological Research Methods

Advanced Biblical/Theological Research Methods is designed to help students develop the skills necessary for successful research at the doctoral level. Students will acquire advanced instruction in research methods and writing principles, as well as achieve expert understanding in the citation style of the Society of Biblical Literature.

2 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Note: Course is only open to students admitted to the Master of Theology program.

Biblical Literature (BL)

BL640 Critical Issues in the Gospels

This course reviews what has preoccupied critical scholars about the gospels: the relationship between the "historical Jesus" and "Christ of faith," the Synoptic Problem (Markan priority, Q), the uniqueness of John's presentation,agrapha (including the longer ending of Mark and pericope adulterae), apocryphal gospels (for example, Gospel of Thomas), genre, provenance, authorship, structure, intent, and reception. In addition to discussing secondary literature with student presentations, we will engage in very close readings from the gospels.

4 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25.

BL696 Thesis Extension

Students who are unable to complete Thesis II with its final draft and oral defense, will need to take BL696 before progressing in the ThM program.

Zero credit hours. Note: Continuation fee applied.

BL697 Thesis I (ThM)

Intensive research and writing leads to the production of a thesis under the guidance of the Thesis Committee. Only the student with an approved Thesis Proposal may register for BL697. This course focuses on the research and writing stage of the thesis. No grade is posted for this course until the thesis is completed and approved.

2 credit hours. Prerequisite: Any concentration-specific prerequisites and an approved thesis proposal on file in the Faculty Support Administrator's Office.

BL698 Thesis II (ThM)

A continuation of BL697 Thesis I culminating in a completed thesis and oral defense.

2 credit hours. Prerequisite: BL697 and an approved thesis proposal on file in the Faculty Support Administrator's Office.

New Testament (NT)

NT640 Advanced Greek Grammar

An intensive study of Koine Greek based on the major historic Greek grammars, developments in linguistics, and an inductive study of select portions of the Greek Bible, especially the New Testament.

4 credit hours. Frequency: Every Fall. Prerequisite: NT511, NT512, and NT513. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. MDiv students taking Advanced Greek Grammar should have at least 9 credit hours of Greek.

NT641 Union with Christ: Exegesis and History of Interpretation

Union with Christ is arguably the most comprehensive way to describe Christians' salvation. This course offers a careful, reflective exegesis of all the seminal passages in the Septuagint (Old Greek), New Testament, and early church fathers. Attention is also given to the rich development of this summative motif in medieval and reformation thought.

4 credit hours. MDiv Prerequisites: NT511 and NT512. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Required for ThM program.

NT642 New Testament Textual Criticism

This course explores the history, methods, and goals of New Testament textual criticism as a foundation and aid to exegesis. Along with the key witnesses, tools, and editions it will introduce students to the most important current debates and explore implications of an evangelical doctrine of Scripture for textual criticism. The culmination of the course will be a major research project on an unexplored area of text critical research that uses the skills learned in the class.

4 credit hours. MDiv Prerequisites: NT511 and NT512. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Required for ThM program.

NT656 The Sermon on the Mount

This course places the Sermon on the Mount in the broader context of early Christian discipleship, with attention given to the Apostolic and Desert Fathers. It will operate with the conviction that discipleship is the way toward Evangelical renewal.

4 credit hours. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25.

NT661 Ephesians

A verse-by-verse reading of Ephesians with attention given to textual criticism, syntax, and semantics.

4 credit hours. Prerequisites: NT511, NT512, and NT513. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25.

Old Testament (OT)

OT620 Old Testament Textual Criticism

This course teaches the principles of textual criticism of the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament. The student will grapple with the problems in the textual history of the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament and work toward satisfactory solutions by using the primary evidence of Hebrew and Greek sources, other textual traditions as required, and the best of secondary literature.

4 credit hours. Prerequisites: OT511, OT512, OT513, NT511, NT512, and NT513. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Required for ThM program.

OT621 Critical Issues in Old Testament Studies

This course begins with a survey of the history of the discipline of Old Testament studies. This survey lays the foundation for the primary focus of the course, an evaluation of modern historical-critical methods of interpretation. Studies will engage critical approaches to the authorship of the Pentateuch and Isaiah and apply what has been learned to books such as Daniel and Zechariah. Special attention will be given to the production of prophetic books, textual features of ancient Near Eastern literature, and the doctrine of Scripture. Significant analysis of both secondary literature and the OT texts themselves leading to presentations, critical reviews, and student presentations will form the bulk of the coursework.

4 credit hours. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Required for ThM program.

OT622 Hebrew Exegesis of Proverbs

An exegetical study in the book of Proverbs. The students will develop exegetical methodology and apply their exegetical skills to portions of Proverbs as a foundation for effective application and exposition to the Christian community.

4 credit hours. Prerequisites: OT511, OT512, and OT513. Hebrew elective for MDiv BTS; General elective for all other programs except MAPC. Note: ThM courses are available to MDiv students with 60 credit hours completed and a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Required for ThM program.

Course Descriptions – Doctor of Ministry

DM702 Studies in Pastoral Leadership

These courses explore leadership and administrative aspects of pastoral ministry that fall outside of the traditional Master of Divinity education including: budgeting and financial decision making, human resources and staff management, accountability structures and personal growth while in ministry. Emphasis on strategic self-assessment and leadership.

4 credit hours.

DM716 Studies in Pastoral Theology

These courses explore biblical-theological topics at a depth and applied level beyond that covered in the basic Master of Divinity curriculum.

4 credit hours.

DM717 Biblical Theology

Building on exegesis and systematic theology basics, this course explores biblical theology method, the relationship between biblical theology, systematic theology, and exegesis, and concentrates on the application of biblical theology to ministry.

4 credit hours.

DM736 Advanced Homiletics

Building on the student's past education and experience, this course focuses on building depth and clarity in preaching. Extensive attention is given to preaching the various genre of Scripture as well as the rigorous process of contextualization and application.

4 credit hours.

DM783 Advanced Exegesis

Building on master's level work in exegesis, this course emphasizes the use of genre, literary analysis, and exegetical contextualization for robust exegesis for preaching and teaching. Special attention is given to difficult genre and text collections.

4 credit hours.

DM784 Advanced Systematic Theology

This course teaches theological method, contextualization, and theological assessment of and application to ministry contexts. Special attention is given to contemporary theological issues and to neglected aspects of classical theology.

4 credit hours.

DM795 Doctoral Project 1

The Doctoral Project is designed to involve the student in practical ministry research. The project allows the student to select a specific aspect of ministry to build or strengthen with robust biblical theological analysis, contextualization, and leadership. The subject, length and form of the project are determined by the student in consultation with the project supervisor and the Director of the Doctor of Ministry Program.

3 credit hours. Prerequisites: Successful completion of 24 hours of core and concentration courses, and approval of topic by Doctor of Ministry Project Committee.

Continued work on the doctoral project leading to submission of the final draft.
